

MARSHALL FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Governor of Indiana Named by Democrats
as Wilson's Running MateA WINNING TICKET
SAY DEMOCRATS

Much Satisfaction Expressed at
Action of the Baltimore
Convention

Democrats about town are generally well pleased with the outcome of the convention at Baltimore. The friends of Champ Clark naturally feel disappointed but like Clark himself they are willing to accept the decision of the majority.

The consensus of democratic opinion is that the ticket is the strongest that could have been chosen and that it was fortunate that out of such a conflict came such complete harmony.

Thomas H. Lawler

Mr. Thos. H. Lawler, seen by a Sun reporter this morning, said: "I am greatly delighted as you may know at the nomination of Gov. Wilson as I believe it means democratic success beyond a doubt."

Ex-Mayor Casey

Speaking of Gov. Wilson, Mr. Casey stated that he represents all that is best in the progressive policies enunciated by Roosevelt which necessarily eliminates the ex-president from the presidential contest as a factor to be dreaded. His record as governor of New Jersey, said Mr. Casey, proves beyond peradventure that he is possessed of those qualities of leadership that make for constructive government. His record and his ideas on democratic government should not only commend themselves to democratic the country over but to a large share of republicans who have been clamoring for a candidate to carry the progressive policies of the day to success.

Ex-Congressman William S. McNear of Boston is the chief Wilson booster in the Bay state, and it is quite likely that ex-Mayor Casey, who has presided at the Wilson rallies in this city will be heard on the stump in Massachusetts for Wilson, Marshall and the democratic ticket.

John W. McEvoy

Lawyer John W. McEvoy was pleased with the convention and thought the party had a narrow escape from developments resembling those on the republican side. He related that out of apparent chaos came harmony and a winning ticket.

Major Crowley

Major Robert J. Crowley, who was present at the early deliberations of the convention at Baltimore, expressed himself as being fully satisfied with the choice of the delegates. He said Wilson's nomination would give entire satisfaction throughout the democratic camp. Major Crowley said as far as he could see there was no fight against Wilson at the convention and he is of the opinion that if it had not been for Brian the convention would have been the most harmonious ever held, and that Champ Clark would have been the nominee. He further stated that although he was more in favor of Clark, the choice is a good one and very satisfactory to all.

Daniel J. Donahue

Daniel J. Donahue, relative to the democratic nomination, said: "Wilson is a good, clean and highly respected citizen of this country, and I approve the work of the convention in selecting him as presidential candidate. As far as I can see, everybody is satisfied with the choice, for with all due respect to Champ Clark, the delegates could not have picked out a better and more efficient man."

James F. Owens

James F. Owens predicted success for the ticket and overwhelming defeat for the republican party. After all, perhaps the convention could not have selected a stronger ticket. It should be loyally supported.

Mayor O'Donnell

Asked today if he were pleased with the final result of the convention at Baltimore, Mayor O'Donnell said: "I think a strong ticket was nominated, and I feel that Wilson and Marshall will win. If course I didn't attend the convention, but from what I read of the things there and summing it all up, I think Wilson was a good selection, and it certainly looks as if our next president would be a democrat."

DEMOCRATS FINISH BUSINESS AT 1.55
THIS MORNING--LEADERS CONFIDENT OF WINNING

BALTIMORE, Md., July 3.—In the dying hours of the democratic national convention this morning it seemed for a time that there would be another deadlock over the nomination for vice president. Gov. Burke of North Dakota, for whom Mr. Bryan had expressed a preference for the second place on the ticket, had polled enough votes on the first two ballots to block the nomination of Gov. Marshall of Indiana, the leader.

The third ballot had just been ordered when the chairman of the North Dakota delegation obtained recognition from the chair and said:

"North Dakota offered her three times governor to the party, believing him to be the strongest running mate for Gov. Wilson that could be named. We made the best fight we could for him and realize we are beaten. We therefore, withdraw his name, assuring this convention that wherever there is a fight for democratic votes next fall of one of the most notable conventions in the history of the democratic party. William J. Bryan remained a central figure to the last. A short time before adjournment he spoke his "valedictory," as he called it, transferring the party's standard to the shoulders of Gov. Wilson. The respectful attention which the speech received and the applause at its conclusion were tributes to his leadership.

A large number of delegates left the city after the nomination of Gov. Wilson yesterday afternoon, without waiting for the final session. Those who remained showed the relief they felt that the fight was over, and a spirit of hilarity prevailed among them.

The Missouri delegation, loyal to the last to "Old Champ Clark," joined in the revelry as best they could and mingled their cheers for Woodrow Wilson with those of their convention neighbors, the joyful 24 from New Jersey.

THE FOURTH OF JULY
OBSERVANCE IN LOWELL

Band Concerts, Entertainments,
Midway, Bonfires and Patriotic Exercises

Bang! Bang!

The day we celebrate is about to be ushered in and tonight and tomorrow Young America will hold forth.

In other years there has been a great number of bonfires that illuminated the city on the "night before," but it seems that this year many of the boys have lost the spirit and while a few small ones will be touched off, the only large one within the city will be the 40-foot pyramid on Perry field, near Fort Hill. The builders have completed their work and they expect that there will be a large number on hand to witness the proceedings. The torch will be applied at 12 o'clock tonight.

The midway on the common will be in evidence as usual and a great list of attractions will be offered. Some of the famous "eat 'em alive," the original Oriental dancing girls, ring the cane, hit the con, the only place on the common to get real lemonade and a lot of others are ready for a thriving business.

All will be presided over by competent "barkers" and many of them expect to accumulate enough "dough" to exist until the next holiday. "Jockey" Brady, who is one of the greatest hustlers in the city on the soft stuff, will cover the common and Lakeview with his latest novelties and he, too is confident of "putting away" a goodly sum.

Tomorrow will be a busy one in the city, for although there will be no parade many other attractions are on the program. The official program issued by Mayor O'Donnell will start at sunrise in the morning with a salute at Fort Hill park, fired by a squad from Company G of the Sixth regiment, in command of Sergt. C. Joseph Crowell. The church and school bells will also be rung. Salutes will again be fired at noon and at sunset at the park.

At 9 o'clock in the morning several ball games are scheduled to be played on the different parks of the city, but at 10.15 at Spalding park the Lowell and Haverhill New England league teams will clash.

Patriotic exercises will be held at city hall at 10 o'clock in the old common council chamber and the public is invited to attend. The program, which was published in last night's edition of The Sun, is one of great variety.

In the afternoon dancing, bowling, pool and roller skating will be on at Lakeview while dancing will also be held at the Willow Dale and Casino dance halls.

At the Lakeview theatre, Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys," will be presented. At the Merrimack Square theatre and Theatre Voyons, performances will be given during the afternoon and

Large Touring Car Skidded From the Road and Overturned

DULUTH, Minn., July 3.—Life was instantly crushed from the bodies of Mrs. William White, Duluth; Miss Gladys Richardson, Bridgeport, Conn.; and Langford Maddigan, Duluth, the latter a chauffeur, at about midnight on a country pike near Duluth, when a touring car in which they were riding skidded from the road and overturned, pinning its occupants beneath.

William White, Jr., and Miss Nannie Turrish, daughter of Henry C. Turrish, a wealthy lumber man, were severely injured. Charles W. Fitzgerald, the sixth member of the party, was thrown clear of the wreckage and escaped without injury. Miss Gladys Richardson was 20 years. She had been the guest of Miss Turrish for several days.

GIRLS DROWNED IN A CLAY PIT

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., July 3.—Four pairs of little shoes and stockings, found at the edge of a water filled clay pit, told the story yesterday of the drowning of four small girls here.

On Sunday afternoon Ellen and Martha Paeon, in company with Susan Pazen and Frances Stanley, went to pick berries. Sunday night a search for the children was commenced. Yesterday two boys came upon four pairs of shoes and stockings beside a large clay pit on the outskirts of the city. They dragged the pit and recovered the bodies.

MORSE IS SUED

DAMAGES AMOUNTING TO $75,000 CLAIMED BY BARRON

DEDHAM, July 3.—Clarence W. Barron of Boston yesterday filed in the Norfolk superior court a suit of $75,000 against Charles W. Morse of New York, the financier who was released a short time ago from the federal prison at Atlanta.

The writ of attachment was served upon Eugene F. Carver of Brookline, trustee of the property of Morse. The plaintiff says that on November 20, 1905, the defendant requested him to purchase from the national bank of North America in New York 2000 shares of stock of Mallory Steamship company at $35 a share. Mr. Morse promised, it is claimed, that if the plaintiff would purchase this stock at this price he would purchase it from Mr. Barron on Nov. 19, 1907, at the same price and interest, less any dividend received by the plaintiff.

Relying upon the defendant's promise, Mr. Barron claims he purchased the stock at $35 per share as requested. Nevertheless the defendant, though often requested to purchase the stock and to pay the purchase price in accordance with his promise, has continually neglected and refused to do so, the plaintiff claims, and asserts that this has caused him great damage. Whipple, Sears & O'Brien appear for the plaintiff and the writ is returnable August 1.

HOT WEATHER RULES FOR CARE OF HORSES

Agent Richardson of Humane Society Lays Down Law to Drivers of Horses

The following hot weather rules have been issued by Agent Charles F. Richardson of the Lowell Humane society, relative to the care of horses during the hot weather:

1. Load lightly and drive slowly.
2. Stop in the shade if possible.
3. Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working, water in moderate quantities will not hurt him, but let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still.
4. When he comes in after work sponge off the harness marks and even a cloth, is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.

5. If the horse is overcome by heat, get him into the shade, remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over, shower his legs and give him four ounces of aromatic spirits of ammonia, or two ounces of sweet spirits of nitre, in a pint of water, or give him a pint of coffee, warm. Cool his head at once, using cold water, or, if necessary, chopped ice, wrapped in a cloth.

10. If the horse is off his feed, try him with two quarts of oats mixed with bran and a little water, and add a little salt or sugar. Or give him oatmeal gruel or barley water to drink.

11. Watch your horse. If he stops sweating suddenly, or if he breathes short and quick, or if his ears droop, or if he stands with his legs braced sideways, he is danger of a heat or sun stroke and needs attention at once.

12. If it is so hot that the horse sweats in the stable at night, tie him outside. Unless he cools off during the night, he cannot well stand the next day's heat.

CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, Agent Humane Society.

sweat, his eyes, his nose and mouth, and the dock. Wash his feet but not his legs.

6. If the thermometer is 75 degrees or higher, wipe him all over with a wet sponge. Use vinegar water if possible. Do not turn the horse on him.

7. Saturday night, give a bran mash, cold, and add a tablespoonful of salt.

8. Do not use a horse hat, unless it is a canopy top hat. The ordinary bell-shaped hat does more harm than good.

9. A sponge on top of the head, or

INDEPENDENT LINE

LOST BUSINESS BECAUSE OF STORIES CIRCULATED

NEW YORK, July 3.—How vessels of an independent line lost storage business as a result of stories circulated that they were not seaworthy because they had been in action during the Russo-Japanese war, was related yesterday by Oscar L. Richards, a witness in the government suit to dissolve the so-called "Steamship trust."

After telling how he had to take part in a rate war, making successive cuts under the ticket prices charged by conference lines, Richards, who for many years was ticket agent for steamship lines, went on:

"The worst thing that was done to us was by the stories started. Our ships had been in the Russo-Japanese war and they said the ships were unseaworthy because they had been shot full of holes by the Japanese."

Max Straus, general passenger agent for the Prussian-American lines, described the demoralization in the ticket-selling business in this city before the conference, as the government alleges, controlled the situation.

"There were 'rumors' in Broadway and all the railroad stations," said the witness, and many of these men were regular 'body snatchers.' They held up patrons and agents alike.

"I myself paid $37 commission on a

DEATH SENTENCE

PRONOUNCED IN THE CASE OF BERTRAM G. SPENCER

SPRINGFIELD, July 3.—Bertram G. Spencer, the convicted slayer of Miss Martha B. Blackstone, must die in the electric chair at the Charlestown prison some time during the week of Sept. 15. Judge John C. Crosby pronounced the death sentence in the superior court here yesterday.

Spencer received the sentence with calmness. He went a little, but his self-control in the courtroom was in marked contrast to his sensational behavior during his trial.

At his trial a defence of insanity was set up, but the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. The case was carried to the supreme court, but the defendant's exceptions were overruled and the jury's verdict was made to stand.

MT. PLEASANT CLUB IN THE HIGHLANDS

Has Fine Golf Schedule for the Season

The Mt. Pleasant Golf club which is located in the Highlands at the end of the Westford street car line, promises to have in a short time a golf course equal to that of any other course in this section of the state. This is the second year of the club. When the course was first opened it was very difficult to play as the ground was in a very rough condition, being covered with bushes, undergrowth and many other obstacles. However the course has now been cleared and is in very good condition. At present the club is handicapped by not having any water which makes it very difficult to keep the lawns in good condition but they expect to overcome this difficulty by another year. A clubhouse was erected about a year ago which contains shower-baths, locker rooms, a kitchen and library also a very wide piazza which overlooks two unusually good tennis courts that are directly in front of the club.

The members of the club are practically all residents of the Highlands, the situation of the club making it possible for a round of golf at most any time. The club president is Lawyer William H. Wilson; vice president, Josiah Butler; secretary, Benton Mills; treasurer, Wm. H. Sherwell; directors, H. D. Burrage, Thomas Southam, Edward L. Childs.

The schedule for the season is as follows:

July 4th—Flag contest. To the bogey (75) add your handicap for 18 holes. Play until the number strokes you are entitled to are exhausted, and plant your flag while ball lies after making last stroke. Mark on flag the number of holes played. Prizes will be given. Entrance fee 50c.

July 6th. Eighteen holes handicap medal play. The winners of the six contests must play off at match play handicap during the month of October. Contestants may enter at any time during the contests. No entrance fee.

July 20th—Club cup. July 27th—President's cup. President Wilson has donated a cup to be played for by the members under the following conditions: On the last Saturday of June, July, August and September members may play 18 holes handicap medal play. The four winners must play off during the month of October. Match play. No entrance fee.

August 31st—President's cup. September 2nd—Selective nine hole contest. Members may play an unlimited number of rounds, selecting therefrom the best score of each of the nine holes of any round. Prizes will be given. Entrance fee 50c.

September 21st—Club cup. September 28th—President's cup.

October 12th—Green's committee vs. Handicap committee. Two teams will be selected by the captains of both committees to play at match play (without handicap) the losing side to pay for the dinner that evening at a local hotel.

Other contests will be arranged during the season.

WAGE INCREASE GRANTED

Has Fine Golf Schedule for the Season

HURON, S. D., July 3.—Refusing, by a vote of 2 to 1, to endorse President Taft or the Chicago convention, the republican convention of South Dakota here last night adopted a platform which makes no mention of Taft or national issue. The convention elected five of Roosevelt's presidential electors.

SCHOOL TEACHERS

WHO STRAYED FROM TRAILS IN MOUNTAINS WERE FOUND

HONOLULU, July 3.—Two companies of United States troops and a large corps of volunteer teachers succeeded last night in finding five school teachers who strayed from the trails in the mountains last Saturday.

Two of the party, Mrs. Mary Stenberg, formerly of Spokane, and G. W. Shaw, of Denver, were too exhausted from exposure and hunger to be brought back to the city at once and are being treated by the army hospital corps in the mountains. The others, Miss Ruth Heney of Amherst, Mass.; J. F. Knowlton of Denver, and H. W. Robinson of Dartmouth, N. H., did not suffer except from hunger.

BODY OF WOMAN

FOUND IN GORGE JUST BELOW NIAGARA FALLS

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 3.—The body of a woman was found in the gorge just below the falls yesterday morning, near the spot where another body was taken out Monday.

The woman was 5 feet 3 inches in height, had brown hair and dark brown eyes. The falls had stripped the body of its clothing. The body had evidently been in the water a week or longer.

The clothes found on Luna Island on Sunday have been identified as belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth Irish, aged 56, of Niagara. The identification was made by her son, who stated yesterday that his mother had been ill-since Friday. She had been in ill-health of late.

WOMAN'S FORTUNE

SAVED BY CLERK

After Hot Chase in an Automobile

PROVIDENCE, July 3.—Mrs. Rosie Leoloo Akell, a Syrian fruit peddler, had her life fortune of $2000 saved yesterday from a band of ruffians who came into town from Fall River, Mass., a day or two ago looking for victims. Harold J. Manchester, a wide awake clerk at the Westminster bank, armed himself with a revolver, went in pursuit and arrested Michael Leon just as the Syrian woman was letting go of the money which she had withdrawn from the bank.

Manchester was suspicious of the gang two years ago.

purpose for which Mrs. Akell was drawing the money and followed her in the automobile of George E. Smith. The woman had a good start, but Manchester and Smith came upon her and her husband talking business under the bridge of the New Haven road at the foot of West Exchange street. When the automobile drove up to the curb Rosie had her $2000 in her hands and was talking excitedly. There were two men talking to her. One man ran away.

Manchester drew his revolver and pointed it at the other man, who stopped. The fellow was tall, of dark complexion and well dressed. He was put in the machine and driven to police headquarters. In his possession was found a full ruffian's outfit. The big tin box he had in his possession and inside was found a handkerchief containing a bundle of money. A newspaper with dollar bills showing at either end. The package contained a lot of slips of paper folded to resemble money. Later the inspectors searched the room of the man at a hotel and found that there were three in the crowd. Many Italians have been victimized here lately, $10,000 being alleged by the police to be the harvest of the gang two years ago.

SHIPPERS MAKE COMPLAINT OF THE B. &amp; M. SERVICE

Allege Long Delays in Delivery of Goods and Overcharge in Rates

BOSTON, July 3.—Allegations of the tracks and spoiled. Vice-President Buckland of the Boston & Maine road demanded to know the name of the shipper. He claimed it as his right on the ground that the words of the witness were an implication that the road willingly left perishable goods on the rails to spoil. The witness indicated that the reason he would not give up the name was that if he did so the railroad company might discriminate against the shipper. Edwin C. Miller, chairman of the Municipal Light board of Wakefield, said that the Boston & Maine never charged demurrage to the Wakefield lighting plant until last February. Shirley Service Poor.

Royal G. Whiting of the Sampson Cordage Works, Shirley, said that the service to and from Shirley was very poor. He said that goods could be made in the south and sold at New England points almost as cheaply as they could be made here. Arthur Endicott, manufacturer of hats, Boston and Haverhill, said that it took from four to six days to ship ten miles from Lawrence to Haverhill, from Boston to Haverhill it took three to five days. Conditions got so bad that his company expressed all goods to Boston. E. H. Parker, Parker Bros., Salem, manufacturing children's games, said that the Boston & Maine service was very unsatisfactory. Discriminated Against.

William P. Carlton, Keene, N. H., manufacturer of piazza furniture, said that he had difficulty in getting cars. "We have been discriminated against," he said, "by the withdrawal of pro rates to southern and western points." W. H. Russell, Lawrence, of the Archibald Wheel company, said that his company lost a $10,000 contract last fall because of poor shipping conditions between Lawrence and Detroit. He was tipped not to ship by the Grand Trunk because the Boston & Maine road might discriminate against him if he did. He said that it took seven to 10 days to get goods into New York, two or three weeks to Paterson, N. J., and equally long times to other points. One car was in Lawrence five days before his company was informed of the fact. Another car was lost for two weeks. He said that he could not do business with the west as it took too long to get the goods delivered.

Clarence S. Hart, of Chelmsford and Chelsea, said that during January, February and March he had a car every two days consigned to him from the west, but that there was a period during that time when he did not hear from one of the cars for 35 days at a stretch. The hearing was adjourned to 10 o'clock today.

KILLED A MOOSE

CONSTABLE SAID ANIMAL HAD FRIGHTENED HIS WIFE

PITTSFIELD, July 3.—Clement Lawrence of Becket was before the Berkshire district court yesterday, charged with killing a moose. The principal in the prosecution of Lawrence, having obtained a decision from the attorney general that inasmuch as the moose is a member of the general deer family, chapter 545 of the Acts of 1910, relating to the protection of deer, covers moose also. Lawrence, who is a town constable, on May 26 shot a bull moose which appeared at the Lawrence dooryard and frightened his wife. He claimed he did not know what kind of an animal he had shot until after the moose died, because the bull had shed his antlers.

Lawrence entered a plea of guilty when arraigned and on the plea of extenuating circumstances the court filed the papers in the case.

Results Worth the Time

"The incidents of the convention have, in a strange way, emphasized the progressiveness of our party far more than I had expected that progressiveness could be exercised, and the convention has decided with rare unanimity that Gov. Wilson fits into the conditions that the republican convention and our convention have joined in creating.

"Knowing what the platform is, I feel that it will help him in his fight, and I have no doubt that our convention will proceed to choose a vice-presidential candidate who will strengthen the ticket.

It is needless to say that I am gratified to see our party raising the banner of progressive democracy aloft and calling to the progressive forces of the nation to join in restoring the government to the hands of the people, that it may be in truth a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

"It has been a long convention, but the results are worth the time. The dawn is here, and progressive democracy will be the people's pillar of cloud by day."

Princeton Students Cheer Bryan
Mr. Bryan had an informal reception in his rooms yesterday and many delegates dropped in to congratulate him upon his fight. Telegrams poured in praising him for the campaign he had made in the interest of progressivism.

Last yesterday a party of Princeton students marched to Mr. Bryan's rooms and there gave free outlet to their enthusiasm after the naming of the former head of Princeton university for the democracy standard bearer.

Mrs. Bryan was given a song and cheer. There were cheers for Wilson and for Bryan and when the students were not cheering they sang songs, much to the delight of the Nebraskan. The students demanded a speech.

"You say you are very happy," said Mr. Bryan. "Well, if you get happier every day until the election, you will be as happy as I am now."

When some member of the crowd cried that he had been for Underwood, Mr. Bryan addressed him personally, saying: "I had no special pleasure in opposing your man. He is a splendid fellow personally, but he simply did not fit the occasion."

TRIED SUICIDE

WORCESTER GIRL TOOK DOSE OF CREOLIN

WORCESTER, July 3.—Emma Johnson of 183 Fremont street, 15 years old, who returned last week from Sherborn prison, where she had been serving a sentence attempted to end her life by taking creolin last night. At her home the police were informed that she had some words with members of her family regarding the life she should lead in the future, and as a result poured some creolin into a glass of water and started to drink it. It was knocked from her hand before much had been swallowed and she was not in a dangerous condition when she reached the city hospital. She was sentenced to Sherborn August 18, 1910, charged with being a stubborn child.

ACCUSED PASTOR

HAS BEEN ASKED TO TENDER HIS RESIGNATION

HAVERHILL, July 3.—The municipal council at its session yesterday tabled the charges that had been preferred against William Jones, Joseph Armstrong and William Bailey, three special policemen by Rev. J. D. Corrothers. Mr. Corrothers alleged that the policemen appeared in uniform at a meeting of the Calvary Baptist church, disturbed the meeting. The charges were defined by the three specials and Alderman Bartlett, the supervisor of the police department in recommending the tabling of the charges informed the council that they were the outcome of church trouble among colored people and he thought it might adjust itself within a few days.

The action of the council was no sooner made known than it was announced that the parishioners had decided to dismiss Mr. Corrothers as pastor, his resignation having been requested May 24, and to close the church during the month of July. It is understood that Mr. Corrothers will contest the action and appeal his case to the Baptist council.

NOMINATIONS

NOT ACTED UPON BY GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL YESTERDAY

The executive council held its regular weekly session at the state house yesterday afternoon, Acting Gov. Luce presiding. None of the nominations made a week ago were confirmed because all the commissions of the nominees had been made out in the governor's name.

The council postponed action for one week. No nominations were made at yesterday's session.

BRYAN IS PLEASED WITH WILSON'S NOMINATION

He Predicts a Majority of 2,000,000 for Democratic Ticket in Popular Vote

BALTIMORE, July 3.—William J. Bryan in a statement last night said that the nomination of Woodrow Wilson on a progressive platform meant an overwhelming victory for the democratic ticket next fall. Mr. Bryan said: "I feel sure that the action of the convention thus far will appeal to the country. I had no choice among progressive candidates, but from the first included Gov. Wilson in every list. I had occasion to make. His action in coming out strongly against Mr. Parker for temporary chairman was the turning point in his campaign. The country is progressive. Nearly all of the democratic party and more than half of the republican party are progressive."

"The paramount question before this convention was whether we would take sides with the reactionaries and thus encourage the organization of a third party and giving to the third party the hope of defeating the reactionaries divided into two parties, this on the one side and on the other the nomination of a ticket that would so appeal to the progressive element of the nation as to make a third party improbable.

Popular Majority of 2,000,000
"I am satisfied that with Mr. Wilson running for president on the platform which has been prepared there will be comparatively few progressive republicans who will feel justified in supporting the democratic ticket. If I were to make an estimate I would say that we ought to have not less than 2,000,000 majority of the popular vote and enough of the electoral vote to give us an overwhelming majority in the electoral college."

"The action of the convention in adopting the anti-Morgan-Ryan-Belmont resolution has demonstrated that the democratic party is not only progressive, but is bold enough to throw down the gauntlet to the predatory interests. It is fortunate that Mr. Wilson's nomination was made without the aid of Mr. Murphy. It is no reflection upon the many good men in the New York delegation to say this."

Candidate Fits Conditions
"From every standpoint the outlook is hopeful."

"The only unpleasant thing about a political fight is that success to one agent brings disappointment to others. These who fall ought to find some consolation in the fact that failure is not always a reflection upon the individual, because circumstances exert a larger influence than is sometimes supposed in the determining of a convention choice. Men are only available when they fit into conditions."

"I so decided some two years ago that I did not fit into the conditions as we saw them, and I was unwilling to assume the responsibility of advocating any particular progressive party because I preferred to trust the wisdom of the multitude and partly because I felt that a great deal would depend upon the action of the republican convention. When the republican convention adjourned it was even more apparent than before that circumstances required some emphatic action on the part of our convention to insure

LUCE BARRED STRIKERS FROM THE STATE HOUSE

1500 Carmen Declared That the State Board Was Willing to Meet Them

BOSTON, July 3.—The third day of the hearing on the grievances of the striking carmen of the Boston Elevated Railway company before the state board of conciliation and arbitration came to an abrupt ending early yesterday afternoon by the announcement that Acting Gov. Luce objected to the projected mass meeting of the strikers at the state house to show the board their numerical strength. After a series of delays the hearing was postponed until 10:30 this morning.

At the morning session Attorney Vahay declared that the striking employees of the company had not participated in the various disorders which have recently taken place in different parts of the system.

Thomas E. Fitzpatrick, a "seven-strike man" who testified that he had worked for the elevated 35 years, declared that he had joined the union "for the sake of justice," and that his chief grievances against the company were the overcrowding of work upon its employees and the fact that men were discharged for being interested in the union.

Other witnesses who testified yesterday were John McMaster of Roxbury, Owen P. Moore of Dorchester and Dennis M. Coen of Waltham.

The first detachment of the striking carmen made its appearance in front of the state house at 1:30, half an hour before the time set for the demonstration. By 2 o'clock between 1200 and 1500 strikers, all in the uniform of the Boston Elevated railway, had assembled, together with enough women and children to swell the total number of the crowd to almost 3000 persons.

All approaches to the state house were guarded by members of the district police under Gen. Whitney, while Sergeant Mulligan and a detail of 75 patrolmen from Station 3 kept the crowd outside in control.

Failed to Get Use of Common

The conference between Acting Gov. Luce, Counsel Vahay and the leaders of the striking carmen began at 1:40 and concluded at 2:30. The acting governor persisted in his opinion that it would be unwise to risk any overcrowding of the state house by permitting the proposed demonstration to be held there.

Meanwhile an attempt to secure the permission of Pres. John J. Attridge of the Boston city council, to hold the projected demonstration upon the common was also unsuccessful, and the Wells Memorial hall had to be secured as a place for the meeting. The crowd departed quietly.

Upon leaving the executive chamber at the conclusion of the conference with Acting Gov. Luce, Organizational Vahay, at the suggestion of Mr. Vahay, made the following statement:

"The state board of arbitration has been willing to receive all evidence as we desired to present it. The board has been willing to permit us to present our men by divisions. The acting governor denies us this right. He will simply allow us to submit our witnesses to the extent of the seating capacity of the committee room. That is all I have to say."

Acting Gov. Luce's Position

In explanation of his action in refusing to permit the proposed demonstration in the state house, Acting Gov. Luce, who had been informed that the number of strikers would probably reach 4000, gave out the following statement:

"The acting governor, in anticipation of possible friction, consulted with Chief Whitney of the district police, and Col. Mossman, acting sergeant-at-arms, and decided that the presence of any large body within the state house might precipitate trouble and would certainly interfere with the conduct of the ordinary business of the various departments. It was therefore decided that during the afternoon only citizens should be admitted as could show that they had legitimate ground for entrance.

"The statutes seem to contemplate the possibility of riotous conduct on the part of any gathering of 15 or more armed persons or more than 30 unarmed persons. Whether such an assemblage comes under the law by being 'tumultuous' must be determined by the conditions of the moment. It is, however, always prudent to take into account this psychology of the crowd and remember that the history of similar gatherings has shown that men who individually would never think of being other than law-abiding citizens, nevertheless, on becoming part of a large body are often carried away by extraordinary impulses.

"It was understood that the purpose of the gathering was to show the state board of conciliation and arbitration the number of men on strike. This was a perfectly proper purpose and to its accomplishment the acting governor, provided it could be done in a way that would not injure the public peace.

No Precedent for Admission

"It should be understood that the proceedings now in progress are an inquiry, not an arbitration, and that under the statutes the state board may conduct this inquiry in any way it sees fit. It is not required to hold a public hearing, but if it should choose, could do all its investigating through agents. If it thinks a hearing could be of use it may examine such witnesses as it sees fit or it may issue a general invitation to anybody desiring to be heard.

"In the present instance it is understood that the board was quite willing to listen to everybody who would present any pertinent information. Manifestly, however, to listen to several hundred or several thousand persons would result in an enormous amount of repetition, and would delay the conclusion of the investigation far beyond the time when in the interests of all concerned that conclusion should be reached.

"It was therefore not for the best interests of the strikers themselves then that any attempt should be made to examine each of them in succession. This would have been an unnecessarily cumbersome way of bringing out the one fact which counsel for the strikers contemplated demonstrating by this gathering.

"Another consideration that presented itself was that if the precedent of permitting parades through the state house should once be established there is no knowing to what consequences it might lead.

"Today's gathering might be orderly and peaceful in the extreme, but if by reason of it some body of men less amenable to reason should desire to advance their cause after the same fashion, how could it be decided that they might endanger the public peace? So far as it is recalled, demonstrations of this sort have never been permitted, but have always been halted at the doors of the state house. That has been a wise custom, for which there is no reason we should now depart."

AN INVESTIGATION

BY THE BOARD OF STEAMBOAT INSPECTORS

WASHINGTON, July 3.—An investigation of the near collision between the Norfolk and Washington steamer Northland and the presidential yacht Mayflower, with President Taft and a party of distinguished friends on board, at Chesapeake Bay on the night of June 9, is being conducted by the board of steamboat inspectors at Georgetown, U. S. N., commanding the Mayflower, brought charges against Second Officer Jones, who was at the Northland's wheel, charging him with being "unskilled in navigation."

Captain Smith and Lieutenants Cook and Manley have told the board that the Northland, flashing searchlights on the president's flag, bore down on the Mayflower in such a way that a collision must have resulted if danger signals from the yacht whistle had not caused the steamer to reverse engines. Captain Pansy, Second Officer Jones, the other officers of the Northland insist that the vessel was in danger of collision and that the officers of the yacht became frightened because they had the president aboard.

Murphy.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The following officers were elected: President, John Paily; vice president, James Kierney; recording secretary, Mr. Smith; financial secretary, Thomas Blades; sergeant-at-arms, Horace Kinney; chaplain, Guy McQuaid; Sunday school teacher, F. H. Rose; auditors, Edward Kierney and James Kinney. After the election of officers there was a general social time.

BOSTON POLICE DREW GUNS TO PUT A STOP TO RIOTING

More Trouble in Connection With Strike of Boston Elevated Men

BOSTON, July 3.—Rioting and bitterness characterized the developments of yesterday in the Elevated car strike. Policemen and non-union men were pummeled. Enough dynamite to blow a car over the nearby buildings was placed on the tracks on Columbus avenue. Cars were smashed and passengers driven into the streets.

Seventy-five police reserves with drawn revolvers were needed to disperse the mobs that held up a line of cars half a mile long on Washington street.

A West End-Bowdoin square car was passing the strikers' headquarters as the men arrived at Wells Memorial hall, and despite the pleadings of the leaders the strikers stopped the car and, hurling bricks and stones at the motorman, drove him off and then, taking his controller from him, pulled him from the car and drove him down the street.

The conductor picked up a switch stick, climbed over the seats and took the place of the motorman. He held the crowd at bay for ten minutes when a stone thrown by a striker hit him and he was forced to climb back over the seats of the car. As he reached the rear end a well aimed brick struck him full in the face, and he was knocked to the ground, where he was attacked by the strikers.

Policeman James Nelson of the fifth division, in attempting to restore order, was attacked and kicked in the face by a crowd of strikers who had refused to enter the hall and attend the meeting.

Hurry Call for Police

A telephone call was sent to Capt. Ericson of the East Dedham street station and another hurry call to the

Lagrange street station. Within 20 minutes fully a hundred reserves arrived in patrol wagons. By the time the reserves appeared 23 cars had been held up on Washington street. The strikers went down the line of cars and pulled motormen and conductors from their places, telling the passengers to leave their seats.

The trouble started at Broadway extension. Crowds of men were marching along Washington street. As they passed a car with non-union men in charge some of the men jeered and were joined by the onlookers on the sidewalk. The conductor, angered at the cries and boisterousness over the back of the car and struck one of the marchers in the face. In a moment a dash was made for the car. Some pulled the conductor away from the mob that was attacking him. He made his escape.

The parade then continued up Washington street till it reached Wells Memorial hall. It was here that the reserves met them, and after fifteen minutes succeeded in clearing the street.

Picket Lines Out

A picket line was established by the police, and no person was allowed to walk between Castle street and Dover. Several times the police drew their revolvers to hold the mob in check, and car after car, when passing the building in which the strikers' meeting was being held, carried four and five patrolmen on the front, pointing their revolvers at the crowd.

After a wait of several minutes the Elevated company sent in automobiles full crews of men to man the stalled cars, and under the protection of the police they were started. Two patrolmen were assigned to each car.

Arthur E. Conroy, 25 years old, 13 Corning street, employed as a brakeman on the Boston and Maine railroad, was arrested. The police assert that Conroy had yelled "Scab" from the sidewalk. He refused to stop when warned by the police and was then arrested.

Three hundred policemen lined the sidewalks near Wells Memorial in anticipation of trouble after the meeting. Strikers came out in groups of two and three and left in an orderly manner.

Three Strike Meetings

Three large meetings of strikers were addressed in Wells Memorial hall during the outbreaks by the officers of the union.

Charges were made by one of the speakers at the meetings that men whose work the union had caused to remember during the strike in Philadelphia were in this city, and a warning was given to all strikers not to allow themselves to be hired to join any men to matter how many union cards they would show who wished assistance to do any outrage.

Resolutions were adopted at the meetings remonstrating against the treatment that was given the men at the state house by the acting governor, who, it was alleged, took the course that he followed by order of the officials of the Boston Elevated Railway company.

USED A RAZOR

MAN MADE AN ATTACK ON HIS FRIEND

BOSTON, July 3.—Apparently seized with a sudden attack of dementia as he was chatting in a friendly manner with Joseph Goldman in the tailoring shop owned by the latter at 745 Tremont street, Bernard Rothman of 30 Race street is charged by the police with having drawn a razor and to have attacked Goldman.

Goldman was slashed about his throat, wrists and arms, and one slash across his throat missed the jugular vein by less than an inch. The cries of the struggle attracted the attention of Sergeant Hughes and Patrolman Sullivan of the East Dedham street station, and Rothman was arrested after a struggle.

Later at the station house when asked why he attacked his friend, he said that he did not remember doing it, but did remember being seized with a dizzy spell and a strange feeling in his head.

The total amounts to about $1,000. I have given orders that no further work be done until the money is paid, and I am going to place the bills in the city treasurer's hands for collection. LIVELY CONTEST

FOR HEAD OF GENERAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—High tension in the contest for the presidency of the General Federation of Women's club was softened today by the appeal of feminine sympathy and the genuine distress felt over the sudden illness of Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver, former president of the federation.

Mrs. Decker was stricken last night and was reported to be in a critical condition. A consulting physician, asked if appendicitis was threatened, said he could not make any statement about the case until further observation.

Managers of the two candidates for the federation presidency were busy. Mrs. J. C. Terrell, organization manager for Mrs. Percy Pennypacker, and Miss Mary G. Hay, working for Mrs. Philip Carpenter, worked steadily lining up delegates for the election which is scheduled for tomorrow. Despite efforts to keep out the suffrage question, it appeared to be an active factor in the presidential contest.

CHILD COVERED WITH RINGWORM

Herpes and Brown-Tail Moth Itch. Had to Wrap Him in Sheets. Lay in Stupor. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Entirely Well.

29 Knight St., Auburn, Me.—"My son was eight weeks old when he was completely covered with what the physicians call ringworm, herpes, and brown tail moth itch. In places all over his face, head and body were round circles resembling ringworm and finally his whole body became covered in one great sore, so we had to wrap him in sheets. Beneath the surface of the scales was a well of matter. He was in such shape that he was not allowed to be seen by visitors, and scars were upon his body from what few headed up. In the place of one that heeled a dozen new ones would spring up. He got to the place where he did not fret much, but rather lay in a stupor. Some one advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I raised the scales and bathed him with a lather of the Cuticura Soap and after washing, put the Cuticura Ointment on. When I did this the scales washed off of many, leaving the surface a bright reddish hue. The first time it began to clear up his body and in about six weeks he was entirely well and hasn't so much as a single scar. Cuticura Soap and Ointment have never failed me." (Signed) Mrs. Addie E. Jackson, Dec. 20, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." 1117-Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

GOODALE'S DANDELIO IS MUCH IMITATED BECAUSE VERY POPULAR--HOW TO TELL THE GENUINE DANDELIO.

Goodale's Dandelio has grown so strongly in public favor that at many mountains where the original is not served, you will be offered imitation "Dandelion Beer" with the assurance that it is "just as good as Dandelio." BUT IT ISN'T. One drink will convince you of that fact. We want to warn the public against these imitators.

Genuine DANDELIO is served always in ice mugs bearing Goodale's name. It is bottled in Lowell only by Boyle Brothers, who sell it in case lots at $1.00 for 12 bottles.

MEN WANT MORE PAY AND SHORTER HOURS

Strike at the Local Wood Turning Factories—Men Held Meeting Today

The Millmen's union, No. 1468, of this city, which was formed on May 21st of the present year, is today on strike, or "died" as some of the members term it. The men are all out and they claim that if a settlement is not reached soon, work on several of the large buildings now in process of construction will be held up.

The members met this morning in Carpenters' hall in the Hugel building. The grievance is due to the request for an increase in salary or a change in hours. The workers claim that they have sent several communications to the factory men, and while most of the letters have been ignored, the last one forwarded was answered in rather "short but sweet terms" they say.

The workers claim that on April 1st of the present year the owners of the factories increased the price on mill work from 60 cents to 75 cents per hour, informing the business men that they increased the wages of the employees 10 per cent and the union men say that they received no such raise.

Since organizing the local has met regularly at Carpenters' hall and on July 1, by vote of the meeting the following letter was addressed to their employers:

July 1, 1912.
Dear Sir: As you have not seen fit as yet to answer our letter of June 22, we now respectfully invite you to be present at a conference to be held Wednesday evening, July 3, at the American House parlors at 8 o'clock to act on our request for a 50 hour week. Should you gentlemen see fit to absent yourself, we will take it for granted that you refuse to concede to our request for a 50 hour week at same pay and will act accordingly.

We remain,
Fred H. Dow,
Frank L. Heuroux,
Harry Dupres,
Oliver Fortier,
Fred Doute,
Joseph Millmen's committee.

Copies of this letter were sent to Pratt & Forrest, C. M. Holman, Amasa Pratt, C. W. H. Hall, R. W. Cragin, A. E. Johnson, R. W. Cragin and Marshall & Crosby, and the secretary of the union says that all were mailed at the same time.

No reply was made to the committee, and nothing was done on the matter until last evening when notices were posted in the different mills, reading that the requests of the strikers would not be granted. The following is a copy of the notice that was posted at the Pratt & Forrest Co. factory:

July 2, 1912.
To Employees: We are led to believe by certain letters purporting to come from a certain number of our present employees and others, that this factory is not being operated as it properly should be.

To these employees we want to state that this factory will continue to be operated under the present management, without the assistance recently volunteered.

There will be no change in the hours of work.

Not wishing to retain in our employ any of those dissatisfied, we post the following notice:

NOTICE.
All employees wishing to remain in our employ will signify the same before July 6th at 12 o'clock, noon and all others cease to be on our payroll at this time until further notice.

Pratt & Forrest.

The employees went to work this morning, picked up their tools and marched to Carpenters' hall to hold a meeting. The meeting was called to order by Michael A. Lee, business agent of the Carpenters' union, and he spoke advising the men of the action to take during the trouble and then President Joseph Sabourin took the chair. He spoke and the first business was the election of a press committee to provide the newspapers with the progress of the meetings. The sentiment of the men was taken and all voted to remain out of work until a satisfactory agreement was reached. One member reported that one of the manufacturers was trying to secure men to take the places of those out and that he offered larger money than the union men were receiving.

At the adjournment of the meeting the conference committee discussed plans for meeting at the American house tonight.

A member of the press committee told the writer that he would like to mention that the local is in no way connected with the I. W. W., but is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. He said that the district organizer, Charles N. Kimball, of Charlestown, will be the principal speaker at the session tonight. The Lowell men claim that in other cities the woodworkers receive an average of 45 cents an hour and work 50 hours, while in this city they receive an average of 25 cents an hour and work 65 hours in a week. They are confident that the grievance will soon be adjusted.

LOCAL MILLS

WILL SHUT DOWN FOR THE FOURTH ONLY

With the exception of the Lowell Machine shop and the plant of the Kitchin Machine Co., all the local mills will be in operation Friday and Saturday. All the mills, however, will close tonight until Friday morning, but the above shops will not resume work until Monday morning.

NO ACTION TAKEN

ON THE NOMINATION OF THOS. J. ENRIGHT FOR JUDGE

The matter of the confirmation of Governor Foss' appointment of Thos. J. Enright to succeed Samuel P. Hadley as justice of the police court in Lowell, was taken up at the regular meeting of the governor's council held this evening and was laid over for two weeks.

DIVORCE GRANTED

END OF WHAT PROMISED TO BE SENSATIONAL CASE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 3.—A decree of divorce has been granted to Andrew W. Mellon, the Pittsburgh banker, from his wife, Nora McCullen Mellon, according to the record in the office of Prothonotary Kiker, completed here today.

This ends, practically by agreement of the principals, what promised to be a bitterly contested action. The original petition contained serious charges, but later it was amended to contain the charge of desertion. A commissioner was appointed by the court to take testimony in England, France and cities of this country. The testimony was filed with the court without argument with the recommendation that the divorce be granted on the ground of desertion.

ARMY OFFICERS

HAVE MADE TOTAL OF 1500 INDIVIDUAL FLIGHTS

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Since the army aviation school was established in June of last year, the officers attached to it have had 250 hours and 15 minutes of actual flying. This includes all flights up to June 30 of this year. During this period the number of individual flights totaled 1500. From Jan. 1 to June 30, 751 flights were made, consuming 130 hours and 12 minutes.

CITY HALL NOTES

Through the courtesy of the office of the commissioner of finance, the clerks in the different departments at city hall received their pay today and they do not enjoy themselves it will not be Commissioner Donnelly's fault.

Asked today if there was anything new in his department, Commissioner Brown said: "There's nothing new today, but I expect that we will be pretty busy after the Fourth. The streets are generally pretty well littered after the celebrators get through and you know there are 140 miles of accepted streets in Lowell. That means some little element of expense."

There will be a hearing in Commissioner Cummings' office at city hall on Friday morning at 9 o'clock on the petition for the erection of a heavy sign on the Star-Casino building opposite city hall.

The chamber has been prettily decorated for the occasion. The windows, pictures, the presiding officer's desk and the gallery are draped with flags and the work has been well done. ### deputy chiefs, Messrs. Sullivan and Saunders.

Deputy Chief Sullivan will be located at Hose 7 house in Central street and Deputy Chief Saunders will spend the hours at Engine 6 in Fletcher street.

For the past several days the firemen have been making a general tour of the city, ordering persons to clear the rubbish out of alleys and under street gratings, and the majority of the firemen will stay up tonight and be on the alert in case of a fire.

Firemen have been assigned to Chase Hill in Pawtucketville and also Perry's field in Belvidere, where bon fires are to be held and in all probability there will be little danger.

Up to the present time Chief Hosmer has given 44 permits to sell fireworks but of that number there are but four or five who are regular dealers, the others being engaged in the sale of small crackers, torpedoes, etc.

Major James E. O'Donnell has sent a letter to Supt. Welch of the police department authorizing him to have the city patrolled in a vigilant manner. Of course the police will be alert and extra patrolmen and plain clothes men will pass through the midway on the South common and look out for any persons who are light fingered or inclined to violate the law.

The laws and regulations relative to the fireworks and firecrackers are in substance as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or keep for sale any blank cartridge, toy pistol, toy gun or cannon that can be used to fire a blank cartridge; or to sell or keep for sale, or to fire, explode or cause to explode any blank cartridge or bomb; or to sell or keep for sale, or to set off, explode or cause to explode any fireworks containing any picric acid or picrates, or any firecracker exceeding two inches in length and three-eighths of an inch in diameter or of a greater explosive power than a firecracker of such size containing black gunpowder only; provided, that this section shall not apply to illuminating fireworks set off between the hours of 7 o'clock in the afternoon and 12 o'clock midnight, excepting those containing picric acid or picrates, or to the sale of any article herein named to be shipped directly out of the state, or to the sale or use of explosives in the firing of salutes by official authorities, or to the sale or use of blank cartridges for a duly licensed show or theatre or for signal purposes in athletic sports, or to experiments at a factory for explosives, or the firing of bonfires with cannon on shore or from the chief of the district police or from some official designated by him for that purpose, or to the sale for use by the militia, or by any organization of war veterans, or in teaching the use of firearms by experts on days other than holidays.

Section 2. No building shall be used in any city or town for the manufacture of fireworks or firecrackers without a license from the mayor and aldermen or selectmen, respectively, and a permit from the chief of the district police. Cities and towns, respectively, may by ordinance and by-laws prohibit the sale or use of fireworks or firecrackers within the city or town, or may limit the time within which firecrackers and torpedoes may be used.

Section 3. The detective and fire inspection department of the district police may adopt and prescribe regulations not inconsistent with the first or second sections of this act, for the keeping, storage, transportation, manufacture, sale and use of fireworks and firecrackers.

Section 4. The chief of the district police may designate some official of each city and town who shall, when so designated, grant the permits, not ### otherwise provided for, that may be required by the regulations provided for in the preceding section, in accordance with such regulations, and shall keep a record of the same. A fee of fifty cents may be charged for each of said permits. The said chief may revoke any permit granted under the authority of this act, and a permit may be revoked for cause by any official who granted the same.

Section 5. Whoever violates any provision of this act or any regulation, ordinance or by-law made under authority hereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 58. No fireworks or firecrackers, excepting the toy torpedoes or the single toy paper cap, shall be sold to children under 13 years of age.

Section 59. No sparklers or other fireworks except railway and ship signal lights, with match or other sensitive heads, shall be kept or sold.

Section 60. Cigars or cigarettes containing any explosive material shall not be sold or kept for sale in the commonwealth.

Section 61. A permit to sell fireworks or firecrackers at retail shall not be granted to be exercised in the same building with a permit to sell fireworks or firecrackers at wholesale.

QUEEN WAS PLEASED

LONDON, July 3.—Society assembled in strong force at the Palace theatre of varieties last night to see what effect a vaudeville show would have upon the king and queen—especially the sedate queen. This was the first command entertainment at an English music hall, and for 18 hours people waited for admission.

The house was magnificently decorated, the royal box the occasion costing $15,000, but the performance fell very flat with the exception of the knockabout turns, which pleased the queen greatly.

TENDERED RECEPTION

A pretty gathering of relatives and friends took place last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Remi Emond in Ludlum street in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Gervais, who were recently married in Fitchburg. A dainty buffet luncheon was served and a varied entertainment program was rendered, those taking part being: Misses Jennie Lemieux, Alice Lemieux, Anna Lewis, Laura Connors, Albertine Lewis, Andre and Edgar Lamarre.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Emond of Lawrence. The party broke up at a late hour, extending their best wishes to the newly wedded couple.

There was a very large congregation, including the children of the orphanage, in whom the deceased pastor took a great interest. The choir under the direction of James E. Donnelly rendered the Gregorian chant.

ANDREW BLAMES MACVEAGH AND TENDERS RESIGNATION

Says That the Treasury Dept. Employees Are Hampered by Their Chief

stated his reasons for resigning. He says in part:

"Your disposition, methods and point of view are such as to render impossible any real co-operation or any satisfactory transaction of the government's business. Until recently I have continued to hope that this state of affairs, so prejudicial to the transaction of the government's business, might change for the better but your peculiar disposition in this regard has continued to grow so as now to render quite impossible any substantial accomplishment."

Secretary MacVeagh left Washington last night for Dublin, N. H., to spend the Fourth of July.

Senators Crane, Lodge and Smoot, it is understood, have had frequent conferences with the president recently in a vain endeavor to bridge the difficulty between Secretary MacVeagh and his assistant.

Dr. Andrew's resignation became effective at once. He will leave Washington tonight for his home at Gloucester, Mass., to spend the summer.

Samuel Eliot of Boston, Mass., his private secretary, tendered his resignation simultaneously.

The White House made public the following statement written by President Taft:

"Mr. Andrew's resignation as assistant secretary of the treasury was requested, submitted and accepted in view of his failure to obey orders given him by the secretary."

This was the only comment President Taft had to make.

When Dr. Andrew heard of President Taft's statement that his resignation had been asked for, he said: "That is technically true, but the statements in my letter of resignation show the reasons which led to that condition."

He declined to discuss it further.

LOST 11 INNING GAME 4-3Brockton Won Close Game—
Halstein Continues to Play
Good Ball

BROCKTON, July 3.—Lowell and Brockton played for 11 innings yesterday before a winner was decided and then the Sho City boys came across with the necessary one run, winning 4 to 3. The game was practically won by Lowell when Zeiser, who was pitching a wonderful game weakened in the eighth inning with the result that Brockton got three runs, which tied up Lowell's score. And in the 11th passes to Barry and McLane, followed by a single by Sullivan, scored the winning run.

The first hit of the game was made by Clemens in the third inning, when he beat out an infield hit and he went to second on a balk. Miller followed with a hard hit grounder headed for the left garden, but it struck Clemens, and as there were two out at this time, Lowell lost a good chance to score.

In the fourth inning a fine double play was pulled off by Miller, Loneragan and Halstein, that got the spectators, and there was some applause. After Howard had gone out on a fly to Loneragan, Boardman got Brockton's first hit, a single to center. Barry hit a fast one to Miller, who tossed the ball to Loneragan at second, and the latter passed it along to Halstein for a couple of outs. Loneragan's throw was rather high, but Hal was there with a fine jump and pulled the ball down.

Lowell broke the row of ciphers in the fifth inning, sending two men over the pan. Loneragan flied out, and Monahan beat out a bunt. Zeiser, who is doing a little better lately, pulled a fine single, but he was forced at second on Clemens' grounder. Clem started to steal second and Wadleigh threw low and Monahan trotted home. Miller got a three-bagger, sending Clemens home, but De Groff ended the scoring on a foul fly.

Lowell scored again in the eighth, when Clemens singled to the infield. Miller double to left. De Groff grounded out and Halstein did the same, but Clem scored. Magee went out on a grounder.

Zeiser then weakened in the latter half and started off by walking Anderson. Kauff flied to Halstein. Smith singled and took second when Clemens let the ball go by. Howard got a two bagger to right and Anderson and Smith came home. Boardman died at first on a grounder and Barry singled to right, scoring Howard, but was later nailed between the bases.

In the 11th Boardman went out on a liner to Boultie. Barry walked and McLane was also given a free ticket. Sullivan singled and the afternoon pastime was all over.

YOUNG SAYLOR REFUSED TO BOX

He Claimed That He Was Sick

BOSTON, July 3.—Young Saylor, the Indianapolis lightweight, was the cause of 1500 fans being disappointed at the Pilsim A. A. last night by not meeting Matty Baldwin in the feature bout, as he had agreed. He was all right when he weighed in during the afternoon, but when he went to the clubhouse in the evening he refused to box, claiming he was sick.

Dr. Augustus Riley, the club physician, examined him and said that there was nothing the matter with him, but still Saylor refused to go in the ring. As an excuse for Saylor not going on against Baldwin, J. Mack, his manager, said his man was sick with malaria and unable to box. Saylor will remain in Boston today, when he says he will show a certificate from some physician proving that he had malaria. As this is the second time within two weeks that he failed to go on with matches it puts him in bad with the fans.

The two preliminaries that were staged last night were full of action. Johnny Gallant and Frankie Mack boxed a fast eight-round draw. Joe Nelson of Lawrence stopped Jerry Gaines in four rounds.

MELLODY AND MARTIN DRAW

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 3.—Hon. Melody of Boston appeared in place of Ed Fleming of Oldtown, Me., in the main bout last night with Terry Martin in Mechanics hall and scored an even break with the rugged Manchester boxer. It was agreed that no decision should be given if both boxers were on their feet.

Martin had the better of the second, fourth and eighth rounds and Melody put it all over Martin in the sixth and seventh, nearly having his opponent out in the seventh. In the ninth, Martin opened a cut over Melody's left eye, which bothered the Boston boxer by persistent bleeding.

In the preliminary Young Morgan and Young Connolly boxed a draw, and in the semi-finals Peter Barnes of Manchester knocked out Joe Baker, also of Manchester, in the fourth round.

QUINTON SHADES MURPHY

NORFOLK ADAMS, July 3.—The Western Gateway A. C. staged two 10-round bouts last night. Rip O'Brien of this city got a draw with Eddie King of Philadelphia in the first, while Young Jimmy Quinton, another local boy, had a shade on Teddy Murphy of Boston in the second. The first bout was evenly fought in nearly every round while Quinton piled up a slight lead on Murphy toward the close of their mill.

LOUGHREY WON

HE SCORED A VICTORY OVER "CYCLONE CY" SMITH

PROVIDENCE, July 3.—Frank Loughrey of Philadelphia landed the decision over "Cyclone Cy" Smith of New Jersey in the main bout of 15 rounds at the Marlboro A. C. last night. The battle that these two welterweights put up was far from being as good as their last meeting here three weeks ago.

In the fifth round Manager Doherty stepped into the ring and ordered the boxers either to get busy or leave the ropes. After this they did better, although it seemed that Loughrey was willing to do all the boxing, while Smith held on.

Loughrey earned the majority of the rounds by hard, clean punching. In the 14th sending Smith flying through the ropes. At the end of the last round Smith was all but "in".

In the semifinals, Young Miller of Pawtucket and Frank Nelson of New York boxed a six-round draw, substituting for Young Troy and Johnny Parella.

CHIEF WILKIE

WON HIS RACE IN THREE STRAIGHT HEATS

BOSTON, July 3.—Chief Wilkie disposed of Will Be Sure in straight heats on the Charles River half-mile track yesterday afternoon at the matinee of the Metropolitan Driving club. Trixy S has hitherto figured in this class, but her owner has sent her to Maine for the racing there and the Chief and Will Be Sure fought it out alone yesterday.

Will Be Sure broke on the first turn in the opening heat, and the Chief came home an easy winner in 1.03 1/2. Wilkie pulled away from his opponent early in the next heat. The latter horse had the better of the race all the way. The time was 54 seconds.

Just to change the program and make matters a little more interesting, a running race was added. Miss H. T. Loughrey's Paddy and Charles Mason's Jovial were the contestants. The latter horse had the better of the race all the way. The time was 54 seconds.

Major Wellington and La Boudie trotted a good race. The latter won the first heat. The second was a close finish, with the advantage on Major Wellington's side. La Boudie was giving the other horse a hard rub for the lead when she broke in the third.

Spim and Marcell had perhaps the closest contest of the afternoon. Marcell won the first heat. The record was almost an eyelash finish. Spim upset had the final heat, but began to bleed from the nose and his driver let up on him.

Demarest, with A. J. Furush driving, went out to beat 1.08 in a dash against time, but lost by a quarter of a second.

GREAT RIVALRY AMONG THE AMATEUR TEAMS THIS YEAR

Lowell Well Supplied With Fast "Unsalaries" Nines That Are Making Fine Records

The season though comparatively young on the amateur baseball diamond has furnished the usual number of surprises and at the present time Lowell has a large number of good teams. While several years ago there were a number of leagues among the teams, this season there is none but the interest in the game is still very keen and many great games have been played.

There is as usual great rivalry between some of the teams and this statement is made on good authority. It was only last Saturday evening, when the captains of two of our fast teams as a result of an argument on the merits of their respective teams got to it and had to be pulled apart. The outcome of the "battle" is that a game between the teams will soon be staged and a great contest is assured.

As in former years, the suburbs of the city host of fast teams, particularly Billerica and Grantville, and it would not be surprising to see one of the "out of town" aggregations cop the laurels this year. Collinsville had a very good team at the beginning of the season, but a few reverses it seems discouraged the management and the team was disbanded. Several of the players on the team are now connected with Lowell teams and the Collinsville people who were great rooters and followers of the team are pulling hard for the reorganization of a team.

The Collinsville team, which was known as the Brooksides, won the city championship last season, by defeating the Y. M. C. A. team of Lowell, and at the games the followers of the winners were out in large numbers and certainly encouraged their team on to victory. It seems a shame that they have no team to root for this year.

The South common has its usual fast team in the South Ends, who are playing a very fast game this season and have yet to be defeated. There are two teams that are after the scalp of the South common boys and it is expected that they will get it soon. Several claim that their team has been picking lemons and have not played a fast team yet. Those making the claim are ready, they say, to back up their statements with the long green.

The North common is well supplied with ball teams, but the old rivalry between the north and the south is not so keen this year. But the Y. M. C. A. team which plays on the common is a very formidable aggregation and as it is being strengthened every week may before the season is over put the blink on the boys from the vicinity of the South common.

The Y. M. C. A. team this season, though a good one has not been as successful this year as formerly. Manager Gumb is working hard to hold his boys together and thinks that before the season advances very far he will have his usual fast team.

The Y. M. C. A. team after starting off well has taken a drop and this is due to the fact that a recently rejuvenated team has taken several of its best men. Still this nine which played the Y. M. C. A. team Saturday is one to be considered.

The Lincolns, who hail from the vicinity of Lincoln square and made such a fine showing last season are out again this season burning them up in great style. This organization may be termed a young team, but they have clashed with some of the "big ones" and in all contests made a fine impression. Last Saturday they were defeated by the class score of 7 to 5 on the South common after giving a good exhibition as has been seen these seasons.

A new team in the field this season, which bids fair to be one of the best in the city is the one representing the Manhattans club. The team got a bad start, but the continual change of players and finally the change in the management proved beneficial and at the present time the team is going at a rapid pace. The acquisition of Paul Clark as field captain and several other men who played with the former has filled in all the rough spots and now Manager Glen O'Brien, who looks after the business of the team is ready to meet any of them. Last Saturday the team came from behind and defeated the Lincolns on the South common, as was stated in the above paragraph, one of the most cleanly contested and interesting games of the year.

The Y. M. C. A. Independents are a new team but have played some very good games this season. They went fine until they met the South Ends, and in that game the Independents went to pieces and lost by a big score. Since that game, however, some of the weak spots have been filled in and now they are traveling along at a good rate.

There are numerous other teams who are playing very fast and if they are omitted from this article they shouldn't feel offended, for the above are all that the writer has had an opportunity to see in action and hence he is not in a position to criticize the others. Suffice to say that Lowell has a very large number of fast teams and the followers of the amateurs are sure to see some fun ere the season is many weeks older.

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

Funeral of the Late Peter
A. Mackenzie

All that was mortal of the late Peter A. Mackenzie was tenderly consigned to its last resting place in Westlawn cemetery yesterday after impressive services at the Westminster United Presbyterian church in Tyler street.

The funeral took place at 2 o'clock from the late home, 19 Bertha street and was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends as well as by a large number of delegations from the numerous organizations of which deceased was a member. The long cortege wended its way to the church.

The little temple was literally filled and the service was conducted by Rev. J. N. Craig and Rev. S. A. Jackson, the latter pastor of the church. The Odd Fellows male quartet rendered appropriate music during the service. The ushers at the church were M. Doyle, D. J. McKinley and H. G. Walker.

The bearers were Arthur H. Best, John McPhail, John McKinley and Charles F. Holsington. The delegations attending the funeral were from the following organizations: Highland Veritas lodge, I. O. O. F., uniformed rank, K. of P., Lowell council, No. 8, B. A. R., Red Men, Evening Star lodge, Rebekahs, Eagles, Elks, Pilgrim Encampment, I. O. O. F., Integrity lodge, Manchester Unity, Washington, Central, Highland, Vesper Country and Hunting clubs. The cortege was headed by two carriages well filled with flowers. Burial took place in Westlawn cemetery, Rev. S. A. Jackson reciting the committal prayers at the grave. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

LAKEVIEW DANCE HALL

Last evening the Lakeview dance hall was visited by a very large number of people not only from Lowell, but several were there from Lawrence, while the usual number came from Nashua. The floor was in the pink of condition and the music was grand. The xylophone and bell selections by Tom Pool of the Keith Theatre orchestra were greatly enjoyed and the talented manipulator of the "sleeks" was obliged to respond to a number of encores. He will be at the hall for the remainder of the week and all should take a trolley ride to the park and hear the selections as rendered by this expert. John V. Myers is also on hand, and his vocal selections, which have pleased thousands in the past, are being received with the same appreciation. His voice is in fine condition and he has a grand repertoire of popular selections. On July 4th all who visit the hall will receive beautiful souvenirs, and Messrs. Pool and Myers will be in attendance at both the afternoon and evening sessions. The orchestra of eight pieces will also be present, for, despite the increase in the expense of employing Messrs. Pool and Myers, the management is desirous of providing the best music obtainable and the orchestra at the present time is practically the same as the one that made a decided hit during the winter months. Large large oscillating fans have been installed in the bowels of the hall and the sport may be enjoyed there as in the winter time on local alleys.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Those who have witnessed the offering by the Harvard Stock company at the Merrimack square theatre this week pronounce it one of the very best and cleverest presentations by any stock company that has visited these parts in seasons. "The Rosary," the vehicle in which the members of this popular organization are appearing, is considered one of the best creations of modern days and compares favorably with the highest class presentations of the stage. It deals with events in a manner that is most enjoyable—events that are not uncommon in every-day life—and in which are seen happenings encountered by many. The Wiltons, a young man and his wife, live happily for a time and then come differences and discontent that result in their separation. Father Kelly, the parish priest, an excellent character, seeks to bring about a reconciliation and the pair together again. Mr. Kelly is Bruce Wilton, and Miss Valaira as the young wife, are especially pleasing, and George Robinson as Father Kelly is excellent. The other members of the cast, including Charles H. Stevens, whose work here has made him a time favorite, are all pleasantly cast. The play will be given each afternoon at 2:15 and in the evening at 8 o'clock. In connection with the bill a new and novel series of photo-plays and illustrated songs will be given, making the program a continuous one from 1:30 to 10:30 o'clock daily. The use of numerous electric fans, an ozonator, and many exits makes it possible to keep the temperature of this theatre at comfortable figures at all times. It's the "coolest spot in town."

Airship Akron and Melvin Vaniman, Its Builder, Who Lost His Life

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 3.—The has been recovered. The balloon Akron, the $250,000 dirigible balloon in part of the Akron was 253 feet long, 47 feet in diameter, held 400,000 cubic feet of hydrogen gas so securely that the leakage was less than 1 per cent in twenty-four hours and had a gross lifting capacity of thirteen tons. The Guest, George Brilliant and Fred Almas are under it. Vaniman's brother Calvin was also killed. His body long deck beneath housed the machinery for directing the gas bag. The lowest deck or lifeboat housed the crew in case the balloon refused to be directed. The two decks weighed about six tons. The three motors mounted on the gasoline keel had a combined drive of 250 horsepower on the six eleven-foot propellers. Thirty miles an hour in still air was what Vaniman counted on. Two of the propellers were "orientors"—they could be whirled at any angle and could raise or lower the ship as well as drive her ahead. The main raising and lowering device consisted of the three place rudder and single plane fins under the stern, altogether looking like an aeroplane jammed into the balloon.

ENGLISH LEADERS OPPOSED TO STRIKES

They Say That They Do Not Pay

LONDON, July 3.—War against the strike as a weapon of the workmen has been declared by some of the old-time labor leaders of Great Britain, including men who have heretofore advocated extreme measures to obtain better wages and conditions.

Phillip Snowden, one of the cleverest of the socialist members of the house of commons, was among the first to sound the warning that the men were gaining nothing by continual strikes. As, however, he often takes an independent stand, not much surprise was expressed.

When Keir Hardie, his more extreme colleague, followed his example, however, there was a wrinking of brows. Mr. Hardie says he is more, than ever convinced that legislation would produce more permanent results than could be hoped for from strikes.

Reform enacted by the state, he says, becomes permanent and cannot be taken away, but concessions won by a strike during good times might be lost by a lockout in bad times. Therefore, labor representatives should be sent to parliament to enact the right kind of legislation.

Mr. Hardie cited the late attempt of a national strike of transport workers, which dismally failed, as a case of how things should not be done. The fall in the bank balances of the unions and the failure in cost cases to secure any appreciable benefits through strikes have made the men more cautious.

Harriet Quimby's Death May End Flights by Miss Scott

BOSTON, July 3.—Miss Blanche Scott, who was flying about 1000 feet above Miss Harriet Quimby's machine when the accident occurred that caused the deaths of Miss Quimby and William A. P. Willard, who was being carried as a passenger, is likely to abandon the career of an aviator. She saw her friend plunge to her death, and she lost her nerve. Twice she started to descend, but each time became frightened and continued her flight. When she finally volplaned to the earth she landed safely, but when friends reached the machine she had

KOSHER MEAT DEALERS TO SHUT OFF SUPPLY

One Hundred and Fifty Thousand
People May be Forced to Become Vegetarians

BOSTON, July 3.—About 150,000 Jewish residents of New England may be forced to become vegetarians, or live on fish, temporarily at least, by the action of a meeting of wholesale and retail kosher meat dealers, held in the Baldwin place synagogue, North End, last evening. It was the first time the wholesale dealers have taken any part in the contest. Some of the wholesalers have large numbers of cattle on hand, and will lose heavily by the new move.

Nearly 300 men were present, including representatives from all the large companies that supply kosher meat to the retailers. Vice President Samuel Nayer of the Boston Butchers' association presided. All the kosher butchers of Chelsea, Roxbury, Dorchester, East Boston, Cambridge, Malden, Lynn and the North, South and West Ends were represented, and there were present agents of the several dressed meat companies and other wholesale concerns.

After several hours of argument the kosher wholesalers agreed almost unanimously to cut off the supply of kosher meat to the retailers. This resolution went into effect at once.

A committee was appointed to visit the slaughter houses in Brighton and Somerville, where the ceremonial killing of the animals is done, and ask that no more meat be slaughtered in the manner prescribed by the Jewish law until the strike ends.

Declaring that fear of arrest must not stand in their way, the leaders arranged for 100 men pickets, the first of the strike, who were instructed to go on duty at the several slaughter houses this morning and use any means to prevent ceremonial killings; or, this

LARCENY CHARGE

BOYS SAID THEY HAD BEEN READING CHEAP NOVELS

FITCHBURG, July 3.—Raymond Laroche and Stephen Taylor were brought here yesterday from Greenfield, where they were arrested in connection with a larceny case by Inspector Godley. They will be arraigned later, charged with the larceny of blankets from Gen. Routes. The police say that the two defendants and one George Taylor broke into the Routes place on Broad street and stole several blankets. Geo. Taylor was charged in Greenfield court yesterday with larceny and was sentenced to the house of correction for two months.

Laroche gives his age as 14 years and Stephen Taylor as 10. The two boys told the police they had been reading cheap novels and that they cultivated a desire to break into stores and farm barns.

SHOW FIRM ASSIGNS

LYNN, July 3.—Levins and Sargent, manufacturers of women's shoes, made assignments for the benefit of the creditors to John C. F. Phinney and Edward F. Underwood today. Mr. Phinney is the principal creditor and Mr. Underwood is an attorney. The liabilities of the firm are placed at about $100,000.

Levins and Sargent employ about 400 hands and their factory has a capacity of 600 pairs of shoes daily. It is believed that there will be no suspension of work.

Arrangements are being made for a meeting of the creditors on July 10.

CANOBIE LAKE PARK THEATRE

"The Suburbanites," the opening attraction at Canobie Lake park theatre, is a delightful little comedy, brimful of fun, with a number of good songs and with some very clever dancing. The plot is based on the troubles of Irving Leland, a Philadelphia business man, who takes a girl to a popular restaurant and is seen by a representative of a firm with which he is trying to close a contract, and to whom he introduces the girl as his wife. The difficulties appear when the banker visits Leland's home and Leland tries to keep his real wife out of the way. As the plot unfolds the funny situations arise constantly, and the audience is kept in a glow of laughter. The skit includes a short sketch by Kelley and Galvin which alone is worth the price of admission and which makes an instant success hit. Another feature is the singing of Herbert Webster in "Shadows." The various roles are well filled by a capable company and the show is well worth going to see.

WILSON AND MARSHALL

After all, the democratic party is to be congratulated on nominating a winning ticket in Governor Wilson of New Jersey and Governor Marshall of Indiana. It will unite the east and the west, the north and the south; and on a thoroughly progressive platform there should be no difficulty in winning a sweeping victory. After such a strenuous convention the harmonious windup was highly gratifying and indicative of united action in support of the party.

Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, after one of the longest and hottest contests on record, has been nominated as the standard bearer of the democratic party. After all the tumult and the wrangling, after all the dictation by Bryan and the tenacious hold on their delegations by the various candidates, the convention finally arrived at a safe decision. This could hardly have been brought about but for the retirement of Underwood whose strength sent the Wilson vote within sight of the finish line, so to speak. Champ Clark's popularity stood up well until the last day when the delegates saw that his nomination was absolutely hopeless. Nobody can criticize the men who voted for him for changing to Wilson when they saw no other way of selecting a candidate. Bryan suggested a new presidential primary, but that was out of the question and characteristic of the various pieces of advice he tendered the convention at various times during the contest.

Governor Wilson is an able man and will be ready to meet all comers on the stump. Neither Roosevelt nor any of the other opposition spellbinders will have any advantage over Wilson in the campaign. His record is clean and such as should reflect credit upon any presidential candidate. As governor of New Jersey, he overcame a republican majority and changed the state from being the holed of a trust combination to one which has now some of the best laws of any state in the union. There has been no single instance in the United States of a democratic governor carrying more reforms in a republican state than Gov. Wilson has placed on the statute books of New Jersey. If as president he should exercise the same progressive insight to the needs of the people and the same facility for bringing about reforms, he would undoubtedly be one of the best presidents in the history of the republic.

Gov. Wilson was favored by Bryan, but that did not bring about his nomination. He was the choice of different states throughout the country, and when the 58 votes of Illinois and those of Underwood were cast for Wilson, it seemed as if the defeat of Clark was assured.

With Wilson as the standard bearer there is little doubt that the democratic party will score a great victory at the polls in November. Roosevelt may work up his new party scheme but all he can do is to detract from the strength of President Taft and indirectly help in securing a democratic victory.

THE AVIATION FATALITIES

The tragic death of a man and woman at the Harvard aero meet at Squantum adds unhappily to the already long list of martyrs to the cause of aviation. Miss Harriet Quimby, who had attained prominence in the art, took the manager of the meet, Mr. William A. Willard, in a flight to Boston Light and return, and when about to land, as everybody supposed in safety, something happened which threw Mr. Willard out of the machine and Miss Quimby possibly, stunned by the accident, fell after him both descending from a height of 1000 feet to the Neponset river in which they were instantly killed. This accident should be sufficient to stop such contests in the future, although it did not apparently dampen the ardor of the other aviators who volunteered to carry out the remainder of the program as advertised, omitting, of course, the events in which Miss Quimby was to appear.

It was a rather strange coincidence that the morning after the Boston accident, the great dirigible balloon known as the "Akron," built by Melvin Vaniman who intended to cross the Atlantic ocean in it, exploded high in the air at Atlantic City sending five persons to their death. Both these accidents indicate that neither the aeroplane nor the dirigible has yet been perfected to the extent that it can be relied upon as safe if any hitch occurs in the air. There is such danger attached to the use of the machines that it seems almost cruel to induce men to risk their lives in paid exhibitions. It is particularly sad to see a woman in such an accident, and it would seem advisable to prevent women from taking up the art of aviation in public exhibitions. This Harvard aero meet should be declared off and it should not be repeated. A great many such meets have been held throughout the country as a means of making money; and this too should be discouraged if not entirely prevented. It is well to encourage the art, and those who are ready to risk their lives in demonstrating the value of machines deserve recognition and reward, but they should not be enticed into contests that are almost certain to be attended with fatal accidents.

THE SAFE FOURTH

On the night before it is well to plan against accidents upon the Fourth of July. This can be accomplished by the ordinary precaution of having the boys let the old house rifle alone, avoid the use of toy pistols and dangerous firecrackers. In the past a lot of accidents have resulted from the reckless use of cannon crackers and other fireworks, revolvers and shotguns. There is no need of going insane or acting foolishly just because the anniversary of Independence Day comes around once a year. Then again, the excruciating noise, although it may not hasten anybody's death, is needless and should be kept within reasonable bounds. The reduction in the number of accidents on the last two Fourth's was highly gratifying to those who advocated a safe and sane observance, and it is hoped that the coming Fourth will be still more free from serious mishaps.

Consular reports dealing with street car fares in England show that reduction in fares to two cents and in some cases to one cent has vastly increased the number of passengers and consequently the profits of the company. In Glasgow, when the fares as a matter of experiment were reduced to one cent for a ride of a mile and a half, the increase in the number of passengers was from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 a year. In this country in many instances it could be demonstrated that a reduction in the fare would increase the profits of the company.

CLARK NO BOLTER

Speaker Clark has taken his defeat very philosophically and as a good democrat should. He cheerfully accepts the fortunes of war and in spite of the fact that he had 200,000 majority of the popular vote in the states in which Wilson and he competed, yet he promises his cordial support to the party ticket. There is nothing of the bolter in Clark's make-up.

CARBONOL

For Sanitary Housekeeping

Wherever there is dirt there are disease germs. Carbonol destroys these. These germs lurk even in comparatively clean places—such as rugs, draperies, corners, closets, etc. A few drops of Carbonol in the water used in cleaning or a dust cloth wrung out of such water, at once makes these germs harmless.

A few drops used in the dish water dissolves the grease quickly. A little sprinkled in kitchen corners and cracks drives away water-bugs and roaches. Try it. 10c and 25c a bottle.

THE LANE

Not here is heard the din from where, up-curbed, The urban smoke the sounding welkin drapes—

Harsh hammerings on the anvils of the shapes.

Unweary by much that make the spirit sore

While witnessing the war of wrong and right,

A peaceful stream that cheers a peaceful shore

Day and night between the banks of day and night,

Here the plainfolk in obscure ways have taught

The truth too often now ignored of men—

Pure lives are echoes of God's holiest thought

Sounding awhile betwixt the Now and Then.

Who far less fortunate ha' often done

Some kindly deeds the world may never know

White blocks of light they quarried from the sun

To build a stair to step to Heaven on!

Beyond the glittering unnel gray

Heads far more ancient (turbaned in

Than temples that were legends in the days

Before Damascus flourished quaint—

The insects' drones, insistent and forlorn

Out where the winds shy violets

Hint of some fairyland Samson grinding corn—

Blind dups of some Dilliah's faithless

A twittering, catbird hurriedly darts

from sight

Where trumpet-flowers beyond the blaze!

While on the fence a partridge stands

upright,

Sliding its whistle-shuttle through the air.

Deep are the tints of yellow, red and green;

Subdued all sounds these sylvan ways

along.

And all the world is but a singing

And all the earth is but a pictured

Seems blurred as things that now tradition hold;

Old trysts once kept on roofs of Baby-

Old shepherd-songs once heard on

Yet have I missed here in the country

lane

That leads to where my earlier hours

Till buried hopes and faith arose

again—

to Portland, and daily runs following

YACHTS WILL MAKE UP THE FLEET

Three flag officers will be represented, Commodore Paine on the flagship, Constance, and his racing sloop, Shinnia, Vice-Commodore Sears on his steam yacht, Hope, Rear-Commodore Whitehouse on his auxiliary schooner, Iris. Fleet Captain Lumsden will sail the Shinnia.

Visiting the picturesque coast of Maine for sport and recreation on the annual cruise has become traditional with the Eastern Yacht club. The yachts of the club, singly and in groups, have been dogging into the many harbors ever since the club was organized in 1871. Nevertheless the attractive features of those inlets and wooded coves and islands seem to become more alluring each year; except for the first hundred miles run between Marblehead and Portland, each year has seen a slight deviation from the beaten track. Harbors that have been passed by for several years' cruises again appear on the schedule, although the finish is always inside the Pines of Bar Harbor. The innovation this year is Northeast Harbor, which has grown in exclusive attractiveness since the Eastern fleet was anchored off its granite bluffs a decade ago.

As usual, there will be plenty of sport for the racing contingent. The schedule starts off with an $5 mile contest from Marblehead rock to Portland lightship, on Independence day, with a race to Boothbay the following day, and one to the western Penobscot on Saturday.

The fleet will loaf across from Camden to North Haven on Sunday but racing will be resumed on Monday with a 25 mile contest in the east Penobscot. July 9 will be another day of rest for the racing crews, followed on July 10 by a race outside Swan's Island, with a finish at Northeast Harbor. The cruise will end with a race in Frenchman's Bay on July 11, and that night the wind-up banquet will be held at the Bar Harbor reading room, the formal gathering of Commodore Paine will distribute half a dozen specimens of the silversmith's art as trophies to the successful racing yachts.

The yachts will have one more opportunity in the second contest for the Norman cup, which Captain Norman offered two years ago for the run of 175 miles back to Marblehead. The cup was won last year by the little Bermuda winner, the Venonah, owned by E. J. Bliss. Possession of the Norman cup goes to the yacht owner winning it three times. Captain Bliss is not in the big yacht racing game this year.

GIRL WAS INJURED WHILE TRYING TO SAVE A LITTLE CHILD

WOBURN, July 3.—Josephine Sullivan, aged 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan of 12 Buckman court, dashed in front of an auto yesterday afternoon to save the life of an infant child, but she was struck by the car and last night was at the Choate hospital with a compound fracture of the right leg, a gash over her right eye and her body seriously bruised.

A crowd of children had gathered about 6.30 yesterday afternoon near the corner of Main and Buckman streets, attracted by a couple of street musicians. Josephine saw an auto approaching and noticed that a baby carriage containing an infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harkins of Richardson street was directly in its path. She ran to the carriage and managed to roll it out of danger. In doing it she was herself struck by the machine and dashed to the ground. The car was driven by the owner, W. C. Bailey, a local manufacturer, who was accompanied by his son David. Mr. Bailey stopped immediately and after picking up the injured child carried her to the hospital where her wounds were dressed.

MAN KILLED BY EXPLOSION

INSTANTLY KILLED BY DYNAMITE

The Tragedy Occurred at a Camp in North Billerica Today

Clovis Ouellette, aged 41 years, a resident of North Billerica, was accidentally killed by an explosion of dynamite today while at work at his brother's camp, adjoining the town farm.

Ouellette, who was a carpenter by trade, was helping his brother at the camp, and it seems there was dynamite on the place, the explosive having been used to do the excavation. Mr. Ouellette, fearing trouble with the dynamite on Fourth of July, endeavored to store it away, and while so doing it exploded and he was almost torn to atoms.

The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker C. M. Young in this city. Deceased was single and is survived by several brothers and sisters.

DEMOCRATS FINISH BUSINESS AT 1.55 THIS MORNING--LEADERS CONFIDENT OF WINNING

BALTIMORE, Md., July 3.—In the dying hours of the democratic national convention this morning it seemed for a time that there would be another deadlock over the nomination for vice president. Gov. Burke of North Dakota, for whom Mr. Bryan had expressed a preference for the second place on the ticket, had polled enough votes on the first two ballots to block the nomination of Gov. Marshall of Indiana, the leader.

The third ballot had just been ordered when the chairman of the North Dakota delegation obtained recognition from the chair and said:

"North Dakota offered her three times governor to the party, believing him to be the strongest running mate for Gov. Wilson that could be named. We made the best fight we could for him and realize we are beaten. We therefore, withdraw his name, assuring this convention that wherever there is a fight for democratic votes next fall Gov. Burke will be found in the thick of it."

The speaker thereupon moved to make the nomination of Gov. Marshall unanimous. Immediately a wild scramble for the doors followed, few waiting to hear the motion put. Several seconds later Chairman James gavel fell at 1:55 a. m., on the final adjournment of one of the most notable conventions in the history of the democratic party. William J. Bryan remained a central figure to the last. A short time before adjournment he spoke his "valedictory," as he called it, transferring the party's standard to the shoulders of Gov. Wilson. The respectful attention which the speech received and the applause at its conclusion were tributes to his leadership.

A large number of delegates left the city after the nomination of Gov. Wilson yesterday afternoon, without waiting for the final session. Those who remained showed the relief they felt that the fight was over, and a spirit of hilarity prevailed among them.

The Missouri delegation, loyal to the last to "Old Champ Clark," joined in the revelry as best they could and mingled their cheers for Woodrow Wilson with those of their convention neighbors, the joyful 24 from New Jersey.

THE FOURTH OF JULY OBSERVANCE IN LOWELL

Band Concerts, Entertainments, Midway, Bonfires and Patriotic Exercises

Bang! Bang!

The day we celebrate is about to be ushered in and tonight and tomorrow Young America will hold forth.

In other years there has been a great number of bonfires that illuminated the city on the "night before," but it seems that this year many of the boys have lost the spirit and while a few small ones will be touched off, the only large one within the city will be the 40-foot pyramid on Perry field, near Fort Hill.

The builders have completed their work and they expect that there will be a large number on hand to witness the proceedings. The torch will be applied at 12 o'clock tonight.

The midway on the common will be in evidence as usual and a great list of attractions will be offered. Some of the famous "eat 'em alive," the original Oriental dancing girls, ring the cane, hit the coon, the only place on the common to get real lemonade and a lot of others are ready for a thriving business.

All will be presided over by competent "barkers" and many of them expect to accumulate enough "dough" to exist until the next holiday. "Jockey" Brady, who is one of the greatest hustlers in the city on the soft stuff, will cover the common and Lakeview with his latest novelties and he, too is confident of "putting away" a goodly sum.

Tomorrow will be a busy one in the city, for although there will be no parade many other attractions are on the program. The official program issued by Mayor O'Donnell will start at sunrise in the morning with a salute at Fort Hill park, fired by a squad from Company G of the Sixth regiment, in command of Sergt. C. Joseph Crowell.

The church and school bells will also be rung. Exhibits will again be fired at noon and at sunset at the park.

At 2 o'clock in the morning several ball games are scheduled to be played on the different parks of the city, but only 98 witnesses have been examined at 10:15 at Spalding park the Lowell and Haverhill New England league teams will clash.

Patriotic exercises will be held at city hall at 10 o'clock in the old common council chamber and the public is invited to attend. The program, which was published in last night's edition of The Sun, is one of great variety.

In the afternoon dancing, bowling, pool and roller coasting will be on at Lakeview, while dancing will also be held at the Willow Dale and Kaslo dance halls.

At the Lakeview theatre, Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys," will be presented. At the Merrimack Square theatre and Theatre Voyons, performances will be given during the afternoon and

TITANIC INQUIRY

BOARD OF TRADE WILL MAKE REPORT SOON

LONDON, July 3.—The board of trade inquiry into the Titanic disaster concluded today when Lord Mersey, the presiding judge, without setting a definite date, announced that its report would be produced within a reasonable time.

Sir Rufus Isaacs, the attorney general, in his closing speech, said he had been anxious to find if possible an excuse for the inaction of Captain Lord of the Californian, but he had regretfully come to the conclusion that there was no excuse for him. The court he said must find Captain Lord's evidence unsatisfactory.

Sir Rufus Isaacs added the conclusion was irresistible that the Californian might have got to the Titanic in time to save her passengers and concluded by asserting that utterly unnecessary risks had been taken by the Titanic that the disaster was due to a had lookout and excessive speed. During the 35 sessions of the court of inquiry 98 witnesses have been examined and 25,631 questions put to them.

WATER PRESSURE TO BE INCREASED

Question Taken Up by Alderman Barrett

Asked if there was anything to be done to increase the water pressure in the section or district in which the "Friend Bros." bakery is located, Alderman Barrett said, today, that he was making arrangements to connect the high service reservoir with the old reservoir, and the one that is being built. "The high service reservoir," said Mr. Barrett, "accommodates not more than 300 or 350 families and why the new reservoir was built lower than the high service reservoir is more than I know. If I had had the say I certainly would have insisted upon having the reservoir that we are building now, as high if not higher than the high service reservoir, because we need the pressure. It would probably mean that some new mains would have to be laid in certain streets and it might affect the plumbing in a few houses, but that would be little as compared to the great necessity of better fire protection in certain sections. I am planning now to connect the high service reservoir with the other reservoir. That may help some, but it is not all that is required."

Asked what he thought of the suggestion to build a standpipe in the Highlands to take care of that section, Mr. Barrett said: "A standpipe would cost about $50,000 and another reservoir wouldn't cost much more than that."

DR. KIRCHENFRIED MARRIED

BANGOR, Me., July 3.—Dr. Albert Kirchenfried of Bangor, an instructor in the surgical department at Harvard university was united in marriage to Miss Grace Waterman of this city, at noon today. The bride is a graduate of Simmons college and has been a resident social worker at Lincoln House in Boston.

BATTLE IS ON NEAR BACHIMBA

Question Taken Up by Federal and Rebels Begun Fighting Today

AT THE REBEL FRONT, Bachimba, Mex., July 3.—Shells from the artillery of the federal forces began falling near the hills where the rebels are entrenched two miles from Bachimba, shortly after 11 a. m. today. At the same time the federal cavalry in three columns began moving up slowly. Shortly before noon the shelling by the federals became more frequent, the rebels finally answering with their artillery, while rebel sharpshooters waited for the federal cavalry to move into range. The federal shells were not well placed at the opening of the battle and the rebels held their position easily.

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's church yesterday, when Mr. Arthur Gendron and Miss Daisy Linehan were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Burns. Miss Nora Spilain was bridesmaid and Mr. George Gendron, a brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was gown in baby Irish hennery and the bridesmaid wore a pink silk. A reception was held at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Leighton Gendron, and there were many friends present from Boston, Salem, North Andover and New Hampshire. The couple received many beautiful presents.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Gendron will be at home, at 17 Burns street, after Aug. 1st. No cards.

Among the several business establishments of the city that are decorated in honor of the Glorious Fourth is the Cook, Taylor & Co., store on Central street. There is a very generous display of the national colors suspended along the front of the building.

SWEDEN WON

IN DUEL SHOOTING AT OLYMPIC GAMES

STOCKHOLM, July 3.—Sweden was victorious in today's team competition for duel shooting at a distance of 30 metres. The Swedish team of four men made an aggregate of 1143 points out of a possible 1200, each man firing 30 shots. The best individual score in the competition, however, was registered by the American, A. P. Lane, who made 292 points.

SCHWAB BACK FROM EUROPE

NEW YORK, July 3.—Chas. M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Co., was among the passengers who arrived from Europe on the steamship Olympic today.

Mr. Schwab said that a democratic victory in November and a reduction of the tariff on steel would greatly affect the steel industry in the east but would not be serious in the west on account of the freight rates.

Michael E. Lee, business agent of the Carpenters' union went to Lawrence today on a business mission.

An excellent display of fireworks was given at Lakeview park last evening by the Bay State St. Ry. Co. The change in the time of starting the display from 9 to 10 proved very popular and the large crowd of people who visited the park, greatly enjoyed the exhibition.

MINNESOTA MEN

HAVE DECIDED TO SUPPORT GOV. WILSON

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 3.—The Minnesota Progressive league will back Woodrow Wilson, democrat, in his coming campaign, according to Geo. S. Loftis, president of the league, in a statement today. According to Mr. Loftis practically all of the members of the executive committee of the league have agreed to this plan, and a meeting for a formal ratification will be held here next Saturday night.

"Woodrow Wilson represents our idea of progressiveness," said Mr. Loftis. "There is no reason for us to join the third party movement and neither can we support President Taft. We will work for Mr. Wilson in the state."

GOVERNOR WILSON

BALTIMORE, July 3.—Gov. Wilson will in the main determine the direction of his own campaign for president; pass upon the desirability of appointing a campaign committee and confer with a sub-committee of the national committee on the naming of the officers of the new democratic national committee.

This was the sense of the members of the national committee which met today and, after continuing the efforts of the old committee in power until a permanent organization was effected, designated a sub-committee of five, consisting of Chairman Mack, Secretary Woodson and three other committee men to confer with Gov. Wilson regarding his plans.

The committee heard a protest made by Congressman O'Shaughnessy of Rhode Island, against the seating of Geo. F. Greene of Wisconsin on the committee. Mr. O'Shaughnessy urged that he was duly elected by a primary provided by the Rhode Island state central committee. He charged that many fraudulent votes were cast for Greene. The committee dismissed the protest on the ground that the national committee had previously passed on the case and that its action had been confirmed by the full national convention.

PRETTY WARM

TODAY IS THE HOTTEST OF THE YEAR

Today was the hottest day of the year, and the mercury in the thermometers went skyward. The temperature went to the one hundred mark in many places, but the normal average was about 95. Many people, especially those working outdoors and doing manual labor, were affected by the heat and several had to be removed to their homes.

Of course it is taken for granted that tonight will be a hot night in the "old town," owing to the fact that it is the "night before the Fourth."

FUNERAL NOTICES

MINAHAN—The funeral of Patrick Minahan will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the parlors of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

THREE PERSONS KILLED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Large Touring Car Skidded From the Road and Over- turned

DULUTH, Minn., July 2.—Life was instantly crushed from the bodies of Mrs. William White, Duluth; Miss Gladys Richardson, Bridgeport, Conn.; and Langford Maddigan, Duluth, the latter a chauffeur, at about midnight on a country pike near Duluth, when a touring car in which they were riding, skidded from the road and overturned, pinning its occupants beneath.

GIRLS DROWNED IN A CLAY PIT

Their Bodies Were Re- covered by Boys

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., July 2.—Four pairs of little shoes and stockings, found at the edge of a water filled clay pit, told the story yesterday of the drowning of four small girls here.

On Sunday afternoon Ellen and Martha Paxon, in company with Susan Paxon and Frances Stanley, went to pick berries. Sunday night a search for the children was commenced. Yesterday two boys came upon four pairs of shoes and stockings beside a large clay pit on the outskirts of the city. They dragged the pit and recovered the bodies.

MORSE IS SUED

DAMAGES AMOUNTING TO $75,000 CLAIMED BY BARRON

DEDHAM, July 3.—Clarence W. Barron of Boston yesterday filed in the Norfolk superior court a suit of $75,000 against Charles W. Morse of New York, the financier who was released a short time ago from the federal prison at Atlanta.

The writ of attachment was served upon Eugene P. Carver, Jr., Brookline, trustee of the property of Morse.

The plaintiff says that on November 26, 1906, the defendant requested him to purchase from the national bank of North America in New York 2000 shares of stock of Mallory Steamship company at $35 a share. Mr. Morse promised, it is claimed, that if the plaintiff would purchase this stock at this price he would purchase it from Mr. Barron on Nov. 19, 1907, at the same price and interest, less any dividend received by the plaintiff.

Relying upon the defendant's promise, Mr. Barron claims he purchased the stock at $35 per share as requested. Nevertheless the defendant, though often requested to purchase the stock and to pay the purchase price in accordance with his promise, has continually neglected and refused to do so, the plaintiff claims, and asserts that this has caused him great damage.

Whipple, Sears & O'Brien appear for the plaintiff and the writ is returnable August 1.

HOT WEATHER RULES FOR CARE OF HORSES

Agent Richardson of Humane Society Lays Down Law to Drivers of Horses

The following hot weather rules have been issued by Agent Charles F. Richardson of the Lowell Humane society relative to the care of horses during the hot weather:

1. Load lightly and drive slowly.
2. Stop in the shade if possible.
3. Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working, water in moderate quantities will not hurt him. But let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still.
4. When he comes in after work sponge off the harness marks and sweat, his eyes, his nose and mouth, and the dock. Wash his feet but not his legs.

5. If the thermometer is 75 degrees or higher, wipe him all over with a wet sponge. Use vinegar water if possible. Do not turn the horse on his side.
6. Saturday night, give a bran mash, cold, and add a tablespoonful of salt.
7. Do not use a horse hat, unless it is a canopy top hat. The ordinary bell-shaped hat does more harm than good.
8. A sponge on top of the head, or even a cloth, is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.

9. If the horse is overcome by heat, get him into the shade, remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over, shower his legs and give him four ounces of aromatic spirits of ammonia, or two ounces of sweet spirits of nitre, in a pint of water, or give him a pint of coffee, warm. Cool his head at once, using cold water, or, if necessary, chopped ice, wrapped in a cloth.
10. If the horse is off his feed, try him with two quarts of oats mixed with bran and a little water, and add a little salt or sugar. Or give him oatmeal gruel or barley water to drink.
11. Watch your horse. If he stops sweating suddenly, or if he breathes short and quick, or if his ears droop, or if he stands with his legs braced sideways, he is in danger of a heat or sun stroke and needs attention at once.
12. If it is so hot that the horse pants in the stable at night, tie him outside. Unless he cools off during the night, he cannot well stand the next day's heat.

INDEPENDENT LINE

LOST BUSINESS BECAUSE OF STORIES CIRCULATED

NEW YORK, July 3.—How vessels of an independent line lost steamer business as a result of stories circulated that they were not seaworthy because they had been in action during the Russo-Japanese war, was related yesterday by Oscar J. Richards, a witness in the governments suit to dissolve the so-called "steamship trust."

After telling how he had to take part in a rate war, making successive cuts under the ticket prices charged by conference lines, Richards, who for many years was ticket agent for steamship lines, went on:

"The worst thing that was done to us was by the stories started. Our ships had been in the Russo-Japanese war and they said the ships were not seaworthy because they had been shot full of holes by the Japanese."

Max Strauss, general passenger agent for the Prussian-American lines, described the demoralization in the ticket-selling business in this city before the conference, as the government alleges, controlled the situation.

"There were runners in Broadway and all the railroad stations," said the witness, "and many of these men were regular body snatchers." They held up patrons and agents alike.

"I myself paid $10 commission on a

DEATH SENTENCE

PRONOUNCED IN THE CASE OF BERTRAM G. SPENCER

SPRINGFIELD, July 3.—Bertram G. Spencer, the convicted slayer of Miss Martha B. Blackstone, must die in the electric chair at the Charlestown prison some time during the week of Sept. 10. Judge John C. Crosby pronounced the death sentence in the superior court here yesterday.

Spencer received the sentence with calmness. He wept a little, but his self-control in the courtroom was in marked contrast to his sensational behavior during his trial.

At his trial a defence of insanity was set up, but the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. This case was carried to the supreme court, but the defendant's exceptions were overruled and the jury's verdict was made to stand.

MT. PLEASANT CLUB IN THE HIGHLANDS

Has Fine Golf Schedule for the Season

The Mt. Pleasant Golf club which is located in the Highlands at the end of the Westford street car line, promises to have in a short time a golf course equal to that of any other course in this section of the state. This is the second year of the club. When the course was first opened it was very difficult to play as the ground was in a very rough condition, being covered with bushes, undergrowth and many other obstacles. However the course has now been cleared and is in very good condition. At present the club is handicapped by not having any water which makes it very difficult to keep the lawns in good condition but they expect to overcome this difficulty by another year. A clubhouse was erected about a year ago which contains shower-baths, locker rooms, a kitchen and library also a very wide piazza which overlooks two unusually good tennis courts that are directly in front of the club.

The members of the club are practically all residents of the Highlands, the situation of the club making it possible for a round of golf at most any time. The club, president is Lawyer William H. Wilson; vice president, Josiah Butler; secretary, Benton Mills; treasurer, Wm. H. Sherwell; directors, H. D. Burrage, Thomas Southam, Edward L. Childs.

The schedule for the season is as follows:

July 14th—Flag contest. To the bogey (72) add your handicap for 18 holes. Play until the number strokes you are entitled to are exhausted, and plant your flag while ball lies after making last stroke. Mark on flag the number of holes played. Prizes will be given. Entrance fee 50c.

July 15th. Eighteen holes handicap medal play. Two winners of the six contests must play off at match play handicap during the month of October. Contestants may enter at any time during the contests. No entrance fee.

July 20th—Club cup.

July 27th—President's cup. President Wilson has donated a cup to be played for by the members under the following conditions: On the last Saturdays of June, July, August and September members may play 18 holes handicap medal play. The four winners must play off during the month of October. Match play. No entrance fee.

August 31st—President's cup.

September 2nd—Selective nine hole contest. Members may play an unlimited number of rounds, selecting therefrom the best score of each of the nine holes of any round. Prizes will be given. Entrance fee 50c.

September 7th—Club cup.

September 21st—Club cup.

September 28th—President's cup.

October 15th—Green's committee vs. Handicap committee. Two teams will be selected by the captains of both committees to play at match play (without handicap) the losing side to pay for the dinner that evening at a local hotel.

Other contests will be arranged during the season.

SOUTH DAKOTA REJECTS PRES. TAFT

5 Roosevelt Presidential Electors Chosen

HURON, S. D., July 3.—Refusing by a vote of 2 to 1, to endorse President Taft or the Chicago convention, the republican convention of South Dakota here last night adopted a platform which makes no mention of Taft or national issue. The convention elected five of Roosevelt's presidential electors.

SCHOOL TEACHERS

WHO STRAYED FROM TRAILS IN MOUNTAINS WERE FOUND

HONOLULU, July 3.—Two companies of United States troops and a large corps of volunteer teachers succeeded last night in finding five school teachers who strayed from the trails in the mountains last Saturday.

Two of the party, Mrs. Mary Stenberg, formerly of Spokane, and G. W. Shaw, of Denver, were too exhausted from exposure and hunger to be brought back to the city at once and are being treated by the army hospital corps in the mountains. The others, Miss Ruth Heney of Amherst, Mass., J. F. Knowlton of Denver, and H. W. Robinson of Dartmouth, N. H., did not suffer except from hunger.

The Saturday after the Fourth is "Dividend Quarter Day" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England, July 3.—The annual regatta which on Saturday next is to be honored by the presence of King George and Queen Mary, who are coming in the old state barge, which has been renovated for the occasion, and is to be manned by the king's watermen in their historic costumes of the middle ages, opened today.

Nineteen preliminary heats in the various events are down for decision today. The only trans-Atlantic contest today is E. J. Butler of Toronto, Ont., who is to row in the third heat of the diamond sculls against G. E. Fairburn of Jesus college.

BODY OF WOMAN

FOUND IN GORGE JUST BELOW NIAGARA FALLS

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 3.—The body of a woman was found in the gorge just below the falls yesterday morning, near the spot where another body was taken out Monday.

The woman was 5 feet 3 inches in height, had brown hair and dark brown eyes. The falls had stripped the body of its clothing. The body had evidently been in the water a week or longer. The clothes found on Luna Island on Sunday have been identified as belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth Irish, aged 55, of Niagara. The identification was made by her son, who stated yesterday that his mother had been missing since Friday. She had been in ill-health of late.

BRYAN IS PLEASED WITH WILSON'S NOMINATION

He Predicts a Majority of 2,000,000 for Democratic Ticket in Popular Vote

BALTIMORE, July 3.—William J. Bryan in a statement last night said that the nomination of Woodrow Wilson on a progressive platform meant an overwhelming victory for the democratic ticket next fall. Mr. Bryan said: "I feel sure that the action of the convention thus far will appeal to the country. I had no choice among progressive candidates, but from the first included Gov. Wilson in every list. I had occasion to make. His action in coming out strongly against Mr. Parker for temporary chairman was the turning point in his campaign. The country is progressive. Nearly all of the democratic party and more than half of the republican party are progressive."

"The paramount question before this convention was whether we would take sides with the reactionaries and thus encourage the organization of a third party and giving to the third party the hope of defeating the reactionaries divided into two parties, this on the one side and on the other the nomination of a ticket that would so appeal to the progressive element of the nation as to make a third party improbable."

Popular Majority of 2,000,000
"I am satisfied that with Mr. Wilson running for president on the platform which has been prepared there will be comparatively few progressive republicans who will feel justified in supporting the democratic ticket. If I were to make an estimate I would say that we ought to have not less than 2,000,000 majority of the popular vote and enough of the electoral vote to give us an overwhelming majority in the electoral college."

"The action of the convention in adopting the anti-Morgan-Ryan-Belmont resolution has demonstrated that the democratic party is not only progressive, but is bold enough to throw down the gauntlet to the predatory interests. It is fortunate that Mr. Wilson's nomination was made without the aid of Mr. Murphy. It is no reflection upon the many good men in the New York delegation to say this."

Candidate Fills Conditions
"From every standpoint the outlook is hopeful."

"The only unpleasant thing about a political fight is that success to one aspirant brings disappointment to others. Those who fail ought to find some consolation in the fact that failure is not always a reflection upon the individual, because circumstances exert a larger influence than is sometimes supposed in the determining of a convention choice. Men are only available when they fit into conditions."

"I decided some two years ago that I did not fit into the conditions as we saw them, and I was unwilling to assume the responsibility of advocating any particular progressive party because I preferred to trust the wisdom of the multitude and partly because I felt that a great deal would depend upon the action of the republican convention. When the republican convention adjourned it was even more apparent than before that circumstances required some emphatic action on the part of our convention to insure a consolidation of the progressive vote under our banner.

Results Worth the Time

"The incidents of the convention have, in a strange way, emphasized the progressiveness of our party far more than I had expected that progressiveness could be exercised, and the convention has decided with rare unanimity that Gov. Wilson fits into the conditions that the republican convention and our convention have joined in creating."

"Knowing what the platform is, I feel that it will help him in his fight, and I have no doubt that our convention will proceed to choose a vice-presidential candidate who will strengthen the ticket."

It is needless to say that I am gratified to see our party raising the banner of progressive-democracy aloft and calling to the progressive forces of the nation to join in restoring the government to the hands of the people, that it may be in truth a government of the people, by the people and for the people."

It has been a long convention, but the results are worth the time. The dawn is here, and progressive democracy will be the people's pillar of cloud by day."

Princeton Students Cheer Bryan

Mr. Bryan held an informal reception in his rooms yesterday and many delegates dropped in to congratulate him upon his fight. Telegrams poured in praising him for the campaign he had made in the interest of progressivism.

Later yesterday a party of Princeton students marched to Mr. Bryan's rooms and there gave free outlet to their enthusiasm after the naming of the former head of Princeton university for the democracy standard bearer.

Mrs. Bryan was given a song and cheer. There were cheers for Wilson and for Bryan and when the students were not cheering they sang songs, much to the delight of the Nebraskaan.

The students demanded a speech. "You say you are very happy," said Mr. Bryan. "Well, if you get happier every day until the election, you will be as happy as I am now."

When some member of the crowd cried that he had been for Underwood, Mr. Bryan addressed him personally, saying: "I had no special pleasure in opposing your man. He is a splendid fellow personally, but he simply did not fit the occasion."

TRIED SUICIDE

WORCESTER GIRL TOOK DOSE OF CREOLIN

WORCESTER, July 3.—Emma Johnson, of 189 Fremont street, 18 years old, who returned last week from Sherborn prison, where she had been serving a sentence attempted to end her life by taking creolin last night. At her home the police were informed that she had some words with members of her family regarding the life she should lead in the future, and as a result poured some creolin into a glass of water and started to drink it. It was knocked from her hand before much had been swallowed and she was not in a dangerous condition when she reached the city hospital. She was sentenced to Sherborn August 13, charged with being a stubborn child.

ACCUSED PASTOR

HAS BEEN ASKED TO TENDER HIS RESIGNATION

HAVERHILL, July 3.—The municipal council at its session yesterday tabled the charges against William Jones, Joseph Armstrong and William Bailey, three special policemen by Rev. J. D. Corrothers. Mr. Corrothers alleged that the policemen appeared in uniform at a meeting of the Calvary Baptist church, disturbed the meeting. The charges were defined by the three special policemen and the pastor, the supervisor of the police department in recommending the tabling of the charges informed the council that they were the outcome of church trouble among colored people and he thought it might adjust itself within a few days.

The action of the council was no sooner made known than it was announced that the parishioners had decided to dismiss Mr. Corrothers as pastor, his resignation having been requested May 24, and to close the church during the month of July. It is understood that Mr. Corrothers will contest the action and appeal his case to the Baptist council.

NOMINATIONS

NOT ACTED UPON BY GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL YESTERDAY

The executive council held its regular weekly session at the state house yesterday afternoon, Acting Gov. Luce presiding. None of the nominations made a week ago were confirmed because all the commissions of the nominees had been made out in the governor's name.

The council postponed action for one week. No nominations were made at yesterday's session.

Mr. Pettigrew was reputed to be the foremost park superintendent in the country and was frequently consulted on park matters by authorities in this country and Europe. Of late years his chief interest has been in making Franklin Park an attractive place of recreation.

SHIPPERS MAKE COMPLAINT OF THE B. & M. SERVICE

Allege Long Delays in Delivery of Goods and Overcharge in Rates

BOSTON, July 3.—Allegations of the tracks and spoiled.

discrimination, overcharge in rates and demurrage, failure to make proper delivery of cars and of otherwise submitting New England shippers to inconvenience were made by prominent business men who testified before Chairman Charles A. Proulx of the interstate commerce commission yesterday in the hearing being held on the matter of railroad conditions in the New England states.

None appeared who said that he was satisfied or that he was getting better service than he was before the consolidation of the New Haven and Boston & Maine.

Winthrop H. Carter, president of the board of trade of Nashua, N. H., said that on one occasion last spring his company, paper makers, had a car delivered in Boston four days before the time set for the sailing of the Franconia. The car was not put on the dock ready for being emptied until the day for the boat to sail and too late to have the goods shipped. It was necessary for the goods to wait for another boat. Conditions got so bad that it became necessary to ship all goods to New York for exporting. He said that one man had found it necessary to trace his own cars daily while they were en route from Nashua, N. H., to Lynn. It used to take 18 and 20 days to get shipments from Nashua, N. H., to cities not over 100 miles distant. His company had great difficulty in getting cars.

Hiram Tuttle, secretary of the Waltham board of trade, said that the business men of his city had the greatest difficulty in making shipments from Waltham to New York and other points. The Waltham Watch Co., he said, had found the shipping conditions very unsatisfactory. Goods which it is felt should come from New York in five days take two weeks in transit.

Waltham's Small Freight House

Waltham ships about 500-car loads each week. Her freight house accommodates only five cars, the yard four cars, and a special side track, three cars, making but 12 cars that can be left there without blocking the main rail.

A letter was read in which it was stated that the Boston & Maine company had failed to take cars from a junction between Waltham and the west because it did not have sufficient locomotives. The lack of facilities has discouraged Waltham shippers, he said.

Charles H. Melz, auto manufacturer of Waltham, said that he had abandoned shipping via the Boston & Maine. He carried all his goods to Newtonville, he said, and ships over the B. & A. road. He said that one shipment over the B. & M. road which was to go 30 miles was not received for 25 days. Others took 22, 40 and 27 days before delivery.

Fred H. Rounds of the Portland, Me. board of trade, said that the company with which he is connected was obliged to give up its Vermont business because of the delay in shipments and general unsatisfactory freight conditions.

Watch or Goods Spoil

The witness aroused a dispute by his statement that a Portland, Me. man shipping perishable goods was obliged to keep his eyes on the goods at all times to prevent their being left on

Vice-President Buckland of the Boston & Maine road demanded to know the name of this shipper. He claimed it as his right on the ground that the words of the witness were an implication that the road willingly left perishable goods on the rails to spoil. The witness indicated that the reason he would not give up the name was that if he did so the railroad company might discriminate against the shipper.

Edwin C. Miller, chairman of the Municipal light board of Wakefield, said that the Boston & Maine, never charged demurrage to the Wakefield lighting plant until last February.

Shirley Service Poor
Royal G. Whiting of the Sampson Cordage Works, Shirley, said that the service to and from Shirley was very poor. He said that Shirley was very made in the south and sold at New England points almost as cheaply as they could be made here.

Arthur Endicott, manufacturer of hats, Boston and Haverhill, said that it took from four to six days to ship ten miles from Lawrence to Haverhill. From Boston to Haverhill it took three to nine days. Conditions got so bad that his company expressed all goods to Boston.

E. H. Parker, Parker Bros., Salem, manufacturing children's games, said that the Boston & Maine service was very unsatisfactory.

Discriminated Against

William E. Carlton, Keene, N. H., manufacturer of piazza furniture, said that he had difficulty in getting cars. "We have been discriminated against," he said, "by the withdrawal of pro rates to southern and western points."

W. H. Buswell, Lawrence, of the Archbold Wheel company, said that his company lost a $10,000 contract last fall because of poor shipping conditions between Lawrence and Detroit. He was tipped not to ship by the Grand Trunk because the Boston & Maine road might discriminate against him if he did. He said that it took seven to 10 days to get goods into New York, two or three weeks to Paterson, N. J., and equally long times to other points. One car was in Lawrence five days before his company was informed of the fact. Another car was lost for two weeks. He said that he could not do business with the west as it took too long to get the goods delivered.

Clarence S. Harlow, Chas. Weston and Chelsea, said that during January, February and March he had a car every two days consigned to him from the west, but that there was a period during that time when he did not hear from one of the cars for 35 days at a stretch.

The hearing was adjourned to 10 o'clock today.

KILLED A MOOSE

CONSTABLE SAID ANIMAL HAD FRIGHTENED HIS WIFE

PITTSFIELD, July 3.—Clement Lawrence of Becket was before the Berkshire district court yesterday, charged with killing a moose. The first hearing in the prosecution of Lawrence principals in the prosecution of Lawrence, having obtained a decision from the attorney general that inasmuch as the moose is a member of the general deer family, chapter 545 of the Acts of 1910, relating to the protection of deer, covers moose also. Lawrence, who is a town constable, on May 28 shot a bull moose which appeared at the Lawrence dooryard and frightened his wife. He claimed he did not know what kind of an animal he had shot until after the moose died, because the bull had shed his antlers.

Lawrence entered a plea of guilty when arraigned and on the plea of extenuating circumstances the court filed the papers in the case.

SAVED BY CLERK

After Hot Chase in an Automobile

PROVIDENCE, July 3.—Mrs. Rosie Looloo Akell, a Syrian fruit peddler, had her life fortune of $2000 saved yesterday from a band of ruffians who came into town from Fall River, Mass., a day or two ago looking for victims. Harold J. Manchester, a wide awake clerk at the Westminster bank, armed himself with a revolver, went in pursuit and arrested Michael Leon just as the Syrian woman was letting go of the money which she had withdrawn from the bank.

Manchester was suspicious of the gang two years ago.

purpose for which Mrs. Akell was drawing the money and followed her in the automobile of George E. Smith. The woman had a good start, but Manchester and Smith came upon her and her husband talking business under the bridge of the New Haven road at the foot of West Exchange street. When the automobile drove up to the curb Rosie had her $2000 in her hands and was talking excitedly. There were two men talking to her. One man ran away.

Manchester drew his revolver and pointed it at the other man, who stopped. The fellow was tall, of dark complexion and well dressed. He was put in the machine and driven to police headquarters. In his possession was found a full slimfanner's outfit. The big tin box he had in his possession and inside was found a handkerchief containing a bundle done up in a newspaper with dollar bills showing at either end. The package contained a lot of slips of paper folded to resemble money. Later the inspectors searched the room of the man at a hotel and found that there were three in the crowd. Many Italians have been victimized here lately, $10,000 being alleged by the police to be the harvest of Manchester was suspicious of the gang two years ago.

LUCE BARRED STRIKERS FROM THE STATE HOUSE

1500 Carmen Declared That the State Board Was Willing to Meet Them

BOSTON, July 3.—The third day of the hearing on the grievances of the striking carmen of the Boston Elevated Railway company before the state board of conciliation and arbitration came to an abrupt ending early yesterday afternoon by the announcement that Acting Gov. Luce objected to the projected mass meeting of the strikers at the state house to show the board their numerical strength. After a series of delays the hearing was postponed until 10.30 this morning.

At the morning session Attorney Wahy declared that the striking employees of the company had not participated in the various disorders which have recently taken place in different parts of the system.

Thomas E. Fitzpatrick, a "seven-stripe man" who testified that he had worked for the elevated 35 years, declared that he had joined the union "for the sake of justice," and that his chief grievance against the company was the overcrowding of work upon its employees and the fact that men were discharged for being interested in the union.

Other witnesses who testified yesterday were John McMaster of Roxbury, Owen P. Moore of Dorchester and Dennis M. Coen of Waltham.

The first detachment of the striking carmen made its appearance in front of the state house at 1.30, half an hour before the time set for the demonstration. By 2 o'clock between 1200 and 1500 strikers, all in the uniform of the Boston Elevated railway, had assembled, together with enough women and children to swell the total number of the crowd to almost 3000 persons.

All approaches to the state house were guarded by members of the district police under Gen. Whitney, while Sergt. Mulligan and a detail of 25 patrolmen from Station 3 kept the crowd outside in control.

Failed to Get Use of Common

The conference between Acting Gov. Luce, Council Wahy and the leaders of the striking carmen began at 1.40 and concluded at 2.30. The acting governor persisted in his opinion that it would be unwise to risk any overcrowding of the state house by permitting the proposed demonstration to be held there.

Meanwhile an attempt to secure the permission of Pres. John J. Attridge of the Boston city council, to hold the projected demonstration upon the common was also unsuccessful, and the Wells Memorial hall had to be secured as a place for the meeting. The crowd departed quietly.

Upon leaving the executive chamber at the conclusion of the conference with Acting Gov. Luce, Organizer Fay, at the suggestion of Mr. Wahy, made the following statement:

"The state board of arbitration has been willing to receive all evidence as we desired to present it. The board has been willing to permit us to present our men by divisions. The acting governor denies us this right. He will simply allow us to submit our witnesses to the extent of the seating capacity of the committee room. That is all I have to say."

Acting Gov. Luce's Position

In explanation of his action in refusing to permit the proposed demonstration in the state house, Acting Gov. Luce, who had been informed that the number of strikers would probably reach 4000, gave out the following statement:

"The acting governor, in anticipation of possible friction, consulted with Chief Whelan of the district police, and Col. Mossman, acting sergeant-at-arms, and decided that the presence of any large body within the state house might precipitate trouble and would certainly interfere with the conduct of the ordinary business of the various departments. It was therefore decided that during the afternoon only citizens should be admitted as could

AN INVESTIGATION BY THE BOARD OF STEAMBOAT INSPECTORS

WASHINGTON, July 3.—An investigation of the near collision between the Norfolk and Washington steamer Northland and the presidential yacht Mayflower, with President Taft and a party of distinguished friends on board, in Chesapeake Bay on the night of June 9, is being conducted by the board of steamboat inspectors at Georgetown, D. C.

Captain U. S. S. commanding the Mayflower, brought charges against Second Officer Jones, who was at the Northland's wheel, charging him with being "unskilled in navigation."

Captain Symington and Lieutenants Cook and Stanley have told the board that the Northland, fishing searchlights on the president's flag, bore down on the Mayflower in such a way that a collision must have resulted if danger signals from the yacht whistle had not caused the steamer to reverse her engines.

Captain Posey, Second Officer Jones and the other officers of the Northland insist that there was no danger of collision and that the officers of the yacht became frightened because they had the president aboard.

CHILD COVERED WITH RINGWORM

Herpes and Brown-Tail Moth Itch. Had to Wrap Him in Sheets. Lay in Stupor. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Entirely Well.

29 Knight St., Auburn, Me.—"My son was eight weeks old when he was completely covered with what the physicians call ringworm, herpes, and brown tail moth itch. In places all over his face, head and body were round circles resembling ringworm and finally his whole body became covered in one great sore, so we had to wrap him in sheets. Beneath the surface of the scales was a well of matter. He was in such shape that he was not allowed to be seen by visitors, and scars were upon his body from what he had been in. In the place of one that he had a new one would spring up. He got to the place where he did not eat much, but rather lay in a stupor. Some one advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I raised the scales and bathed him with a lather of the Cuticura Soap and after washing, put the Cuticura Ointment on. When I did this, the scales washed off of many, leaving the surface a bright reddish hue. The first time it began to clear up his body and in about six weeks he was entirely well and hasn't so much as a single scar. Cuticura Soap and Ointment have never failed me." (Signed) Mrs. Adelle E. Jackson, Dec. 20, 1911.

BOSTON POLICE DREW GUNS TO PUT A STOP TO RIOTING

More Trouble in Connection With Strike of Boston Elevated Men

BOSTON, July 3.—Rioting and bitterness characterized the developments of yesterday in the Elevated car strike. Policemen and non-union men were pummeled. Enough dynamite to blow a car over the nearby buildings was placed on the tracks on Columbus avenue. Cars were smashed and passengers driven into the streets.

Seventy-five police reserves with drawn revolvers were needed to disperse the mobs that held up a line of cars half a mile long on Washington street.

A West End-Bowdoin square car was passing the strikers' headquarters as the men arrived at Wells Memorial hall, and despite the pleadings of the leaders the strikers stopped the car and, hurling bricks and stones at the motorman, drove him off and then, taking his controller from him, pulled him from the car and drove him down the street.

The conductor picked up a switch stick, climbed over the seats and took the place of the motorman. He held the crowd at bay for ten minutes when a stone thrown by a striker hit him and he was forced to climb back over the seats of the car. As he reached the rear end a well aimed brick struck him full in the face and he was knocked to the ground, where he was attacked by the strikers.

Policeman James Nelson of the fifth division, in attempting to restore order, was attacked and kicked in the face by a crowd of strikers who had refused to enter the hall and attend the meeting.

Hurry Call for Police

A telephone call was sent to Capt. Ericson of the East Dedham street station and another hurry call to the

Lagrange street station. Within 20 minutes fully a hundred reserves arrived in patrol wagons. By the time the reserves appeared 23 cars had been held up on Washington street. The strikers went down the line of cars and pulled motormen and conductors from their places, telling the passengers to leave their seats.

The trouble started at Broadway extension. Crowds of men were marching along Washington street. As they passed a car with non-union men in charge some of the men feared and were joined by the onlookers on the sidewalk. The conductor, angered at the cries and hooting, reached over the back of the car and struck one of the marchers in the face. In a moment a dash was made for the car. Some pulled the conductor away from the mob that was attacking him. He made his escape.

The parade then continued up Washington street till it reached Wells Memorial hall. It was here that the reserves met them and after fifteen minutes succeeded in clearing the street.

Picket Lines Out

A picket line was established by the police, and no person was allowed to walk between Castle street and Dover. Several times the police drew their revolvers to hold the mob in check, and car after car, when passing the building in which the strikers' meeting was being held, carried four and five patrolmen on the front, pointing their revolvers at the crowd.

After a wait of several minutes the Elevated company sent in automobiles full crews of men to man the stalled cars, and under the protection of the police they were started. Two patrolmen were assigned to each car.

"I am sorry to say that quite a number of lot owners who had ordered work done, particularly last year," said Mr. Cummings "have not come forward with the money they owe, namely $2 and $4 each. The total amounts to about $1000. I have given orders that no further work be done until the money is paid, and I am going to place the bills in the city treasurer's hands for collection. If those who owe the money do not report then I will endeavor to collect the sums."

LIVELY CONTEST

FOR HEAD OF GENERAL FEDER- ATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—High tension in the contest for the presidency of the General Federation of Women's club was softened today by the genuine feminine sympathy and the genuine distress felt over the sudden illness of Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver, former president of the federation.

Mrs. Decker was stricken last night and was removed to a sanitarium. A consulting physician, asked if appendicitis was threatened, said he could not make any statement about the case until further observation.

Managers of the two candidates for the federation presidency were busy. Mrs. J. C. Terrell, organization manager for Mrs. Percy Pennington, and Miss Mary G. Hay, working for Mrs. Philip Carpenter, worked steadily lining up delegates for the election which is scheduled for tomorrow. Despite efforts to keep out the suffrage question it appeared to be an active factor in the presidential contest.

MEN WANT MORE PAY AND SHORTER HOURS

Strike at the Local Wood Turning Factories—Men Held Meeting Today

The Millmen's union, No. 1468, of this city, which was formed on May 24th of the present year, is today on strike, or "died" as some of the members term it. The men are all out and they claim that if a settlement is not reached soon, work on several of the large buildings now in process of construction will be held up.

The members met this morning in the Carpenters' hall in the Ruel building. The grievance is due to the request for an increase in salary or a change in hours. The workers claim that they have sent several communications to the factory men, and while most of the letters have been ignored, the last one forwarded was answered in rather "short but sweet terms" they say.

The workers claim that on April 1st of the present year the owners of the factories increased the price on mill work from 60 cents to 75 cents per hour, informing the wages of the employees 10 per cent and the union men say that they received no such raise. Since organizing the local has met regularly at Carpenters' hall and on July 1, by vote of the meeting the following letter was addressed to their employers:

Dear Sir: As you have not seen fit as yet to answer our letter of June 22, we now respectfully invite you to be present at a conference to be held Wednesday evening, July 3, at the American House parlors at 8 o'clock to act on our request for a 36 hour week. Should you gentlemen see fit to absent yourself, we will take it for granted that you refuse to concede to our request for a 36 hour week at same pay and will act accordingly.

We remain,
Fred H. Dow,

Harry Dupres,
Oliver Fortier,
Fred Douin,
Joseph Marin.
Millmen's committee.

Copies of this letter were sent to Pratt & Forrest, C. M. Holman, Pratt Co., W. H. Hatch, Burnham & Davis, A. E. Johnson, F. W. Cragin and Marshall & Crosby, and the secretary of the union, saying that all were mailed at the same time.

No reply was made to the committee, and nothing was done on the matter until last evening when notices were posted in the different mills, reading that the request of the strikers will not be granted. This morning a copy of the notice that was posted at the Pratt & Forrest Co. factory:

To Employees: We are led to believe by certain letters purporting to come from a certain number of our present employees and others, that this factory is not being operated as it properly should be.

To these employees we want to state that this factory will continue to be operated under the present management, without the assistance recently volunteered.

There will be no change in the hours of work.

Not wishing to retain in our employ any of those dissatisfied, we post the following notice:

NOTICE.
All employees wishing to remain in our employ will signify the same before July 6th at 12 o'clock. After that date all others cease to be on our payroll at this time until further notice.

Pratt & Forrest.
The employees went to work this morning, picked up their tools and marched to Carpenters' hall to hold a meeting. The meeting was called to order by Michael A. Lee, business agent of the Carpenters' union, and he spoke advising the men of the action to take during the trouble and then President Joseph Sabourin took the chair. He spoke and the first business was the election of a press committee to provide the newspapers with the progress of the meetings. The sentiment of the men was taken and all voted to remain out of work until a satisfactory agreement was reached. One member reported that one of the

DIVORCE GRANTED

END OF WHAT PROMISED TO BE SENSATIONAL CASE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 3.—A decree of divorce has been granted to Andrew W. Mellon, the Pittsburgh banker, from his wife, Nora McCullen Mellon, according to the record in the office of Probationary Kiker, completed here today.

This ends, practically by agreement of the principals, what promised to be a bitterly contested action. The original petition contained serious charges but later it was amended to contain the charge of desertion. A commissioner was appointed by the court to take testimony in England, France and cities of this country. The testimony was filed with the court without argument with the recommendation that the divorce be granted on the ground of desertion.

ARMY OFFICERS

This includes all flights up to June 30 of this year. During this period the number of individual flights totaled 1500. From Jan. 1 to June 30, 181 flights were made, consuming 159 hours and 12 minutes.

CITY HALL NOTES

Through the courtesy of the office of the commissioner of finance, the clerks in the different departments at city hall received their pay today and if they do not enjoy themselves it will not be Commissioner Donnelly's fault.

Asked today if there was anything new in his department, Commissioner Brown said: "There's nothing new today, but I expect that we will be pretty busy after the Fourth. The streets are generally pretty well littered after the celebrators get through and you know there are 140 miles of accepted streets in Lowell. That means some little element of expense."

There will be a hearing in Commissioner Cummings' office at city hall on Friday morning at 9 o'clock on the petition for the erection of a heavy sign on the Star-Casino building opposite city hall.

City Hall Decorated

City hall is decorated inside and out for the glorious Fourth and Mayor O'Donnell hopes that the patriotic exercises to be held in the old council chamber at 10 o'clock in the afternoon will be well attended. The chamber has been prettily decorated for the occasion. The windows, pictures, the presiding officer's desk and the gallery are draped with flags and the work has been well done. All of the desks have been removed from the floor and chairs have been moved in so that a large audience can be accommodated.

Centralville Social Club

The Centralville Social club will observe Fourth of July with a business meeting in the afternoon in Lakewood this evening, followed by a smoke talk for the members and their friends. At the business meeting will be held the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Likewise the Citizens-Americans club will enjoy themselves with a smoke talk and entertainment at their rooms in Dutton street this evening.

The Pawtucketville Social club will also hold a gathering in the club rooms in Moody street.

Fete Champetre

The members of St. Joseph's parish will observe Fete Champetre in a safe and sane way tomorrow, by congregating at the grounds of the French American orphanage in Pawtucket street, where the annual "fete champetre" will be held. The affair which will consist of amusements of all sorts will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and continue throughout the afternoon and evening.

Booths and tables are set all over the beautiful lawn and goodies of all sorts will be on sale at a moderate price, while different amusements as seen at fairs will be on the grounds.

Last year several thousand people visited the grounds, and it is expected this year the crowd will be still larger. At Notre Dame de Lourdes parish, a bazaar is now being held for the parish fund, and the event will be kept up all day tomorrow, as well as in the evening. The bazaar is being held in the parochial school hall which is richly decorated for the occasion, and there is a variety of articles on sale. A special entertainment program is being prepared for tomorrow, and a large attendance is expected.

Work of Firemen
For the first time on the "night before" the Fourth of July, in a safe and sane way, the Lowell fire department will spend the night at home instead of reclining in a chair in his office. This was brought about principally by the addition of the two deputy chiefs, Messrs. Sullivan and Saunders.

Deputy Chief Sullivan will be located at Hose 7 house in Central street and Deputy Chief Saunders will spend the hours at Engine 6 in Fletcher street.

For the past several days the firemen have been making a general tour of the city, ordering persons to clear the rubbish out of alleyways and under street gratings, and the majority of the firemen will stay up tonight and be on the alert in case of a fire.

Firemen have been assigned to Chase hill in Pawtucketville and also Perry's field in Belvidere, where bon fires are to be held and in all probability there will be little danger.

Up to the present time Chief Josmer has given 41 permits to sell fireworks but of that number there are but four or five who are regular dealers, the others being engaged in the sale of small crackers, torpedoes, etc.

Major James E. O'Donnell has sent a letter to Supt. Welch of the police department authorizing him to have the city patrolled in a vigilant manner. Of course the police will be alert and extra patrolmen and plain clothes men will pass through the midway on the South common and look out for any persons who are light fingered or intent to violate the law.

QUEEN WAS PLEASED

LONDON, July 3.—Society assembled in strong force at the Palace theatre of varieties last night to see what effect a vaudeville show would have upon the king and queen—especially the sedate queen.

This was the first commandant at an English music hall, and for 18 hours people waited for admission.

The house was magnificently decorated, the royal box for the occasion costing $15,000, but the performance fell very flat with the exception of the knockabout turns, which pleased the queen greatly.

TENDERED RECEPTION

A pretty gathering of relatives and friends took place last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Remi Emond in Ludlum street in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Gervais, who were recently married in Fitchburg. A dainty buffet luncheon was served and a varied entertainment program was rendered, those taking part being: Misses Jennie Lemieux, Alice Lemieux, Anna Lewis, Laura Camors, Albertine Lewis, Andre and Elmar Lamare.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Emond of Lawrence. The party broke up at a late hour, extending their best wishes to the newly wedded couple.

REQUIEM MASS

FOR REPOSE OF SOUL OF LATE REV. MICHAEL RONAN

A high mass of requiem was sung at St. Peter's church at 8 o'clock this morning, by Rev. Dr. Ketcher, pastor, for the repose of the soul of the late Rev. Michael Ronan. There was a very large congregation, including the children of the orphanage, in whom the deceased pastor took a great interest. The choir under the direction of James E. Donnelly rendered the Gregorian chant.

Messrs. Wolfford P. Caisse, Jr., Ernest J. Dupont, Paul Bourque, Pamphile Morin and Ursule Favreau will leave Monday for a week's stay at Keyes pond, Ayr, Mass.

ANDREW BLAMES MACVEAGH AND TENDERS RESIGNATION

Says That the Treasury Dept. Employees Are Hampered by Their Chief

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.—Asst. Sec. of Treasury Applatt today tendered his resignation to President Taft as assistant secretary of the treasury. In a spirited letter to the president, Mr. Andrews writes of conditions in the treasury department which are alleged to be due to the attitude of Secretary MacVeagh toward many of his subordinates.

Mr. Andrews' letter of resignation charges that subordinates in the treasury department have been hampered and discouraged at every turn by Secretary MacVeagh's idiosyncrasies and his incapacity for decision. It contains a scathing arraignment of Secretary MacVeagh's administration of the government's financial affairs and created a profound sensation in official circles.

Secretary MacVeagh's mental attitude, said Mr. Andrews, "is difficult to realize by those who have not had intimate experience with it. Toward many of the higher treasury officials he has from time to time displayed an aversion, suspicion and distrust, which, in view of the fact that these officials were men of his own choice, would seem inexplicable in a man of normal mind. For many months at a time he has persistently refused even to speak to these officials of his department with whom he should naturally have been in constant personal communication. Although I have supposedly been the representative of the secretary in his dealings with 19 different bureaus and divisions of the treasury, I have not been allowed in the aggregate a total of more than one hour's conversation with him, including private interviews and conferences in the presence of others during the entire past year. Meanwhile I have sent him hundreds of letters and memoranda asking a decision in regard to matters urgently pending. On very rare occasions I have received reply within a short time; in a few cases the reply has come only after the lapse of a month; in many cases only a lapse of several months (which is frequently the matter I have already decided myself) but in the majority of cases I have received no reply at all. Yet like the other officials mentioned who have been refused any opportunity for personal conference, I have been promptly criticised for any decision made or action taken."

"The conduct of business in a department under such conditions is, of course, impossible. The energetic young men who Mr. MacVeagh was wise enough to select as heads of the various divisions have been hampered and discouraged at every turn by his idiosyncrasies, his astounding capacity for procrastination, his incapacity for decision and the peculiar moods of suspicion and aversion to which he is constantly subjected."

"There has never been a time since I have been in the treasury when he has not labored under the delusion that some of those who were loyal and conscientiously for him were in a cabal conspiring against him. This has led him to treat some of his most efficient aides with harsh ingratitude and with a lack of consideration that was little short of brutal."

"My experiences in these matters is only the familiar experience of the majority of treasury officials. It was only on account of their devotion to their work and a constant hope that a change in conditions was pending that they have not left the public service. I am told that the same is true of Mr. Cabell, the commissioner of internal revenue and it is doubtless true of others."

"For the foregoing reasons, whereby the transaction of all business pertaining to my office has become practically impossible, I beg with infinite regret to place my resignation as assistant secretary of the treasury in your hands."

In his letter to Secretary MacVeagh the latter assistant secretary plainly stated his reasons for resigning. He says in part:

"Your disposition, methods and point of view are such as to render impossible any real co-operation or any satisfactory transaction of the government's business. Until recently I have continued to hope that this state of affairs, so prejudicial to the transaction of the government's business, might change for the better but your peculiar disposition in this regard has continued to grow so as now to render quite impossible any substantial accomplishment."

Secretary MacVeagh left Washington last night for Dublin, N. H., to spend the Fourth of July.

Senators Crane, Lodge and Smoot, it is understood, have had frequent conferences with the president recently in a vain endeavor to bridge the difficulty between Secretary MacVeagh and his assistant.

Dr. Andrews' resignation became effective at once. He will leave Washington tonight for his home at Gloucester, Mass., to spend the summer.

Samuel Eliot of Boston, Mass., his private secretary, tendered his resignation simultaneously.

The White House made public the following statement written by President Taft:

"Mr. Andrews' resignation as assistant secretary of the treasury was requested, submitted and accepted in view of his failure to carry out orders given him by the secretary."

"This was the only comment President Taft had to make."

When Dr. Andrews heard of President Taft's statement that his resignation had been asked for, he said:

"That is technically true, but the statements in my letter of resignation show the reasons which led to that condition."

He declined to discuss it further.

LOST 11 INNING GAME 4-3Brockton Won Close Game—
Halstein Continues to Play
Good Ball

BROCKTON, July 2.—Lowell and Brockton played for 11 innings yesterday before a winner was decided and then the Shea City boys came across with the necessary one run, winning 4 to 3. The game was practically won by Lowell when Zeiser, who was pitching a wonderful game weakened in the eighth inning with the result that Brockton got three runs, which tied up Lowell's score. And in the 11th passes to Barry and McLane, followed by a single by Sullivan, scored the winning run.

The first hit of the game was made by Clemens in the third inning, when he beat out an infield hit and he went to second on a balk. Miller followed with a hard hit grounder headed for the left garden, but it struck Clemens, and as there were two out at the time, Lowell lost a good chance to score.

In the fourth inning a fine double play was pulled off by Miller, Lonergan and Halstein, that got the spurt, and there was some applause. After Howard had gone out on a fly to Lonergan, Boardman got Brockton's first hit, a single to center. Barry hit a fast one to Miller, who tossed the ball to Lonergan at second, and the latter passed it along to Halstein for a couple of outs. Lonny's throw was rather high, but Hal was there with a fine jump and pulled the ball down.

Lowell broke the row of ciphers in the fifth inning, sending two men over the pan. Lonergan fled out, and Monahan beat out a bunt. Zeiser, who is doing a little better today, pulled a fine single, but he was forced at second on Clemens' grounder. Clem started to steal second and Wadleigh threw low and Monahan trotted home. Miller got a three-bagger, sending Clemens home, but De Groff ended the scoring on a foul fly.

Lowell scored again in the eighth, when Clemens singled to the infield. Miller double to left. De Groff grounded out and Halstein did the same, but Clem scored. Magro went out on a grounder.

Zeiser then weakened in the latter half and started off by walking Anderson. Kauff fled to Halstein. Smith singled and took second when Clemens let the ball go by. Howard got a two bagger to right and Anderson and Smith came home. Boardman died at first on a grounder and Barry singled to right, scoring Howard, but was later nailed between the bases.

In the 11th Boardman went out on a liner to Boutelle. Barry walked and McLane was also given a free ticket. Sullivan singled and the afternoon pastime was all over.

CHIEF WILKIE

WON HIS RACE IN THREE STRAIGHT HEATS

BOSTON, July 3.—Chief Wilkie disposed of Will Be Sure in straight heats on the Charles River half-mile track yesterday afternoon at the matinee of the Metropolitan Driving club. Trixy 8 has hitherto figured in this class, but her owner has sent her to Maine for the racing there and the Chief and Will Be Sure fought it out alone yesterday. Will Be Sure broke on the first turn in the opening heat, and the Chief came home an easy winner in 1:08 1/2. Wilkie pulled away from his opponent early in the next heat. Will Be Sure gained some of his lost ground, but went to another bad break in the home stretch. The time was 1:06 1/2.

Major Wellington and La Boudie trotted a good race. The latter won the first heat. The second was a close finish, with the advantage on Major Wellington's side. La Boudie was giving the other horse a hard rub for the lead when she broke in the third.

Spilm and Mardell had perhaps the closest contest of the afternoon. Mardell won the first heat. The second was almost an eyelash finish. Spilm started bad the final heat, but began to lead from the nose and his driver let up on him.

Decarist, with A. J. Furbush driving, went out to beat 1:08 in a dash against the first, but lost by a quarter of a second.

Saturday, July 6th, is "Quarter Day" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank, cor. Merrimack and John streets.

YOUNG SAYLOR
REFUSED TO BOX

He Claimed That He Was Sick

BOSTON, July 3.—Young Saylor, the Indianapolis lightweight, was the cause of 1623 fans being disappointed at the Pilgrim A. A. last night by not meeting Matty Baldwin in the feature bout, as he had agreed. He was all right when he weighed in during the afternoon, but when he went to the clubhouse in the evening he refused to box, claiming he was sick.

Dr. Augustus Riley, the club physician, examined him and said that there was nothing the matter with him, but still Saylor refused to go in the ring. As an excuse for Saylor not going on against Baldwin, J. Mack, his manager, said his man was sick with malaria and unable to box. Saylor will remain in Boston today, when he says he will show a certificate from some physician proving that he had malaria. As this is the second time within two weeks that he failed to go on with matches it puts him in bad with the fans.

The two preliminaries that were staged last night were full of action. Johnny Gallant and Frankie Mack boxed a fast eight-round draw. Joe Nelson of Lawrence stopped Jerry Gaines in four rounds.

MELLODY AND MARTIN DRAW

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 3.—Hon. Melody of Boston appeared in place of Ed Fleming of Oldtown, Me., in the main bout last night with Terry Martin in Manchester hall and scored an even break with the rugged Manchester boxer. It was agreed that no decision should be given if both boxers were on their feet.

Martin had the better of the second, fourth and eighth rounds and Melody put it all over Martin in the sixth and seventh, nearly having his opponent out in the seventh. In the ninth, Martin opened a cut over Melody's left eye, which bothered the Boston boxer by persistent bleeding.

In the preliminary Young Morgan and Young Connolly boxed a draw, and in the semi-finals Peter Barnes of Manchester knocked out Joe Baker, also of Manchester, in the fourth round.

QUINTON SHADES MURPHY

NORTH ADAMS, July 3.—The Western Gateway A. C. bag O'Brien of this city got a draw with Eddie King of Philadelphia in the first, while Young Jimmy Quinton, another local boy, had a shade on Teddy Murphy of Boston in the second. The first bout was only fought in nearly every round, while Quinton piled up a slight lead on Murphy toward the close of their mill.

LOUGHREY WON

HE SCORED A VICTORY OVER
"CYCLONE CY" SMITH

PROVIDENCE, July 3.—Frank Loughrey of Philadelphia landed the decision over "Cyclone Cy" Smith of New Jersey in the main bout of 15 rounds at the Marlboro A. C. last night. The battle that these two welterweights put up was far from being as good as their last meeting here three weeks ago.

In the fifth round Manager Doherty stepped into the ring and ordered the boxers either to get busy or leave the ring. After this they did better, although it seemed that Loughrey was willing to do all the boxing, while Smith held on.

Loughrey earned the majority of the rounds by hard, clean punching in the ring, sending Smith flying through the ropes. At the end of the last round Smith was all but "limp".

A WINNING TICKET SAY DEMOCRATS

Much Satisfaction Expressed at
Action of the Baltimore
Convention

Democrats about town are generally well pleased with the outcome of the convention at Baltimore. The friends of Champ Clark naturally feel disappointed but like Clark himself they are willing to accept the decision of the majority.

The consensus of democratic opinion is that the ticket is the strongest that could have been chosen and that it was fortunate that out of such a conflict came such complete harmony.

Thomas H. Lawler

Mr. Thos. H. Lawler, seen by a Sun reporter this morning, said: "I am greatly delighted as you may know at the nomination of Gov. Wilson as I believe it means democratic success beyond a doubt."

Mr. Lawler has been an admirer of Wilson for a considerable time and when the campaign came on, Mr. Lawler was a leader in organizing a Wilson club. He circulated the Wilson nomination papers here and got up a rally in Wilson's interest at which ex-Mayor Casey presided and made a strong speech in support of Wilson's candidacy. "The nomination of Wilson has united the party and it will kill the Roosevelt party," said Mr. Lawler.

Ex-Mayor Casey

One of the few original Wilson men in Lowell, ex-Mayor Casey, today expressed delight at the nomination. Speaking of Gov. Wilson, Mr. Casey stated that he represents all that is best in the progressive policies enunciated by Roosevelt which necessarily eliminates the ex-president from the presidential contest as a factor to be dreaded. His record as governor of New Jersey, said Mr. Casey, proves beyond peradventure that he is possessed of those qualities of leadership that make for constructive government. His record and his ideas on democratic government should not only commend themselves to democrats the country over but to a large share of republicans who have been clamoring for a candidate to carry the progressive policies of the day to success.

Ex-Congressman William S. McNary of Boston is the chief Wilson boomer in the State and it is quite likely that ex-Mayor Casey, who has presided at the Wilson rallies in this city will be heard on the stump in Massachusetts for Wilson, Marshall and the democratic ticket.

John W. McEvoy

Lawyer John W. McEvoy was pleased with the convention and thought the party had a narrow escape from developments resembling those on the republican side. He rejoiced that out of apparent chaos came harmony and a winning ticket.

Major Crowley

Major Robert J. Crowley, who was present at the early deliberations of the convention at Baltimore, expressed himself as being fully satisfied with the choice of the delegates. He said Wilson's nomination would give entire satisfaction to the democratic camp. Major Crowley said as far as he could see there was no light against Wilson at the convention and he is of the opinion that if it had not been for Bryan the convention would have been the most harmonious ever held, and that Champ Clark would have been the nominee. He further stated that although he was more in favor of Clark, that the choice is a good one and very satisfactory to all.

Daniel J. Donahue

Daniel J. Donahue, relative to the democratic nomination, said: "Wilson is a good, clean and highly respected citizen of this country, and I approve the work of the convention in selecting him as the choice, for with all due respect to Champ Clark, the delegates could not have picked out a better and more efficient man."

James F. Owens

James F. Owens predicted success for the ticket and overwhelming defeat for the republican party. After all, perhaps the convention could not have selected a stronger ticket. It should be loyally supported.

Mayor O'Donnell

Asked today if he were pleased with the final result of the convention at Baltimore, Mayor O'Donnell said: "I think a strong ticket was nominated, and I feel that Wilson and Marshall will win. Of course I didn't attend the convention, but from what I read of the doings there and summing it all up, I think Wilson was a good selection, and it certainly looks as if our next president would be a democrat."

LAKEVIEW DANCE HALL

Last evening the Lakeview dance hall was visited by a very large number of people not only from Lowell, but also from the surrounding towns. The usual number came from Nashua. The floor was in the pink of condition and the music was grand. The xylophone and bell selections by Tom Pool of the Keith Theatre orchestra were greatly enjoyed and the talented manipulator of the "sticks" was obliged to respond to a number of encores. He will be at the hall for the remainder of the week and all should make a trip to the park and hear the selections as rendered by this expert. John Y. Myers is also on hand and his vocal selections, which have pleased thousands in the past, are being received with the same appreciation. His voice is in fine condition and he has a grand repertoire of popular selections. On July 4th all who visit the hall will receive beautiful souvenirs, and Messrs. Pool and Myers, the management is desirous of providing the best music obtainable and the orchestra at the present time is practically the same as the one that made such a decided hit during the winter dancing season. Four large seating fans have been installed in the bowling alleys at the lake and the sport may be enjoyed there as in the winter time on all alleys.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Those who have witnessed the offering by the Harvard Stock company at the Merrimack Square theatre this week pronounce it one of the very best and cleverest presentations by any stock company that has visited these parts in seasons. "The Rosary," the vehicle in which the members of this popular organization are appearing, is considered one of the best creations of modern days and compares favorably with the highest class presentations of the stage. It deals with events in a manner that is most enjoyable—events that are not uncommon in every-day life—and in which are seen happenings encountered by many. The Willsons, a young man and his wife, live happily a time and then come differences and discontent that result in their separation. Father Kelly, the parish priest, an excellent character, seeks out the real cause of the trouble and is directly responsible for bringing the pair together again and start them anew on life's journey. Mr. Grady as Bruce Willson, and Miss Valente as the young wife, are especially pleasing, and George Robinson as Father Kelly is excellent. The other members of the cast, including Charles H. Stevens, whose work here has made him a primo favorite, are all pleasantly cast. The play will be given each afternoon at 2:15 and in the evening at 8 o'clock. In connection with the bill a new and novel series of photo-plays and illustrated songs will be given, making the program a continuous one from 1:30 to 10:30 electrically. The use of numerous electric lights, an organ, and many exits makes it possible to keep the temperature at all times. It's the "coolest spot in town."

TRIP TO NANTASKET

As in the past two years the Ray State Street Ry. Co. has made arrangements with the Nantasket Steamboat Co. and the management of Paradise Park by which it is possible to offer a very pleasant trip from this city at a reduced rate.

The trolley trip to Boston is one that is always pleasant and interesting during the summer season while the boat trip between Boston and Nantasket Beach through the island-dotted Boston harbor and Quincy Bay is a constant delight. The tickets will go on sale July 5 and will be good during the season from Lowell on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

KOSHER MEAT DEALERS TO SHUT OFF SUPPLY

One Hundred and Fifty Thousand
People May be Forced to Become Vegetarians

BOSTON, July 3.—About 150,000 Jewish residents of New England may be forced to become vegetarians, or live on fish, temporarily at least, by the action of a meeting of wholesale and retail kosher meat dealers, held in the Ashwin place synagogue, North End, last night. It was the first time the wholesale dealers have taken any part in the contest. Some of the wholesalers have large numbers of cattle on hand, and will lose heavily by the new move.

Nearly 300 men were present, including representatives from all the large companies that supply kosher meat to the retailers. Vice President Samuel Nayer of the Boston Butchers' association presided. All the kosher butchers of Chelsea, Roxbury, Dorchester, East Boston, Cambridge, Malden, Lynn and the North, South and West Ends were represented, and there were present agents of the several dressed meat companies and other wholesale concerns.

After several hours of argument the kosher butchers agreed almost unanimously to cut off the supply of all New England by refusing to deliver any more meat. This resolution went into effect at once.

A committee was appointed to visit the slaughter houses in Brighton and Somerville, where the ceremonial killing of the animals is done, and ask that no more meat be slaughtered in the manner prescribed by the Jewish law until the strike ends.

Declaring that fear of arrest must not stand in their way, the leaders arranged for 100 men pickets, the first of the strike, who were instructed to go on duty at the several slaughter houses this morning and use any means to prevent ceremonial killings; or, this could not furnish bait.

ENGLISH LEADERS OPPOSED TO STRIKES

They Say That They Do Not Pay

LONDON, July 3.—War against the strike as a weapon of the workmen has been declared by some of the old-time labor leaders of Great Britain, including men who have heretofore advocated extreme measures to obtain better wages and conditions.

Phillip Snowden, one of the clearest of the socialist members of the house of commons, was among the first to sound the warning that the men were gaining nothing by continuing strikes. As, however, he said, he takes an independent stand, not much surprise was expressed.

When Kell Hardie, his more extreme colleague, followed his example, however, there was a wringing of brows. Mr. Hardie says he is more than ever convinced that legislation would produce more permanent results than could be hoped for from strikes.

Reform enacted by the state, he says, becomes permanent and cannot be taken away, but concessions won by a strike during good times might be lost by a lockout in bad times. Therefore, labor representatives should be sent to parliament to enact the right kind of legislation.

Mr. Hardie cited the late attempt of a national strike of transport workers, which dimly failed, as a case of how things should not be done.

The union officials are beginning to realize that trades unionism is not a healthy state in England at present. Last year men went on strike against the advice of their leaders and gained nothing. This year the officials ordered the strikes, but the men, following the more astute leaders, refused to respond.

The fall in the bank balances of the unions and the failure in cost cases to secure any appreciable benefits through strikes have made the men more cautious.

SCHOOL JANITORS' CONVENTION

The eighth annual convention of the Massachusetts Public School Janitors' association will be held one week from today. A committee, consisting of President Dana, Messrs. Burch, Mahoney, Housell, Palm, Toy and Keegan are actively engaged in making preparations for the reception of the delegates on that occasion.

The convention will be held in St. Joseph's hall, Dutton street, and at 1 o'clock a luncheon will be served. After the business session is concluded, Truant Officer Thornton of this city and Truant Officer Mulvey of Boston, and former State President Connolly of Jamaica Plain will address the gathering. After the convention the delegates will be shown the many places of interest throughout the city before departing for their respective homes.

GOV. WOODROW WILSON

Has Not Decided on His Campaign Manager

SEA GIRT, N. J., July 3.—"I haven't had time to think of all these things," Gov. Woodrow Wilson came out of the "Little White House" sat in an easy chair on his porch, crossed his legs, took off his glasses and thus replied today to a bombardment of questions hurled at him by a group of reporters. He was looking rather careworn and tired.

"I don't know yet whether I shall appoint Mr. McCombs my campaign manager or suggest him for the chairmanship of the national committee," he said. "I have not decided whether I shall resign as governor of New Jersey. I haven't had time to read the platform; I have made no campaign plans—in fact, I have devoted all my time to morning callers and to my correspondence."

"These and other details I shall take up in due time with my friends. Poor fellows, they will have to get some rest."

"To all the thoughtful and generous friends who have sent me messages of congratulation I want to express my hearty thanks. I shall not be able to answer them individually, I am afraid, they are so delightfully numerous. I hope this inadequate acknowledgment will fall under their eyes. The messages of persons of confidence help immensely to make public service seem worth while."

"Do you care to comment on the convention's work?" he was asked.

"I can only say," he replied, "that I am much gratified by its harmonious ending. As to the work of my supporters, I never saw anything like it for absolute devotion to what they wanted to accomplish. They were, many of them, my warm, personal friends."

The governor will continue to visit Trenton every Tuesday, maintaining the custom set when there was first built a summer mansion, of keeping "Governor's Day" at the state capital. His friends are positive that he will not resign as governor until after the first of next year, as under the New Jersey law the president of the senate automatically takes the governor's seat upon the latter's resignation. John D. Prince, the president of the senate, is a republican.

WILSON AND MARSHALL

After all, the democratic party is to be congratulated on nominating a winning ticket in Governor Wilson of New Jersey and Governor Marshall of Indiana. It will unite the east and the west, the north and the south; and on a thoroughly progressive platform there should be no difficulty in winning a sweeping victory. After such a strenuous convention the harmonious windup was highly gratifying and indicative of united action in support of the party.

Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, after one of the longest and hottest contests on record, has been nominated as the standard bearer of the democratic party. After all the tumult and the wrangling, after all the detestation by Bryan and the tenacious hold on their delegations by the various candidates, the convention finally arrived at a safe decision. This could hardly have been brought about but for the retirement of Underwood whose strength sent the Wilson vote within sight of the finish line, so to speak. Champ Clark's popularity stood up well until the last day when the delegates saw that his nomination was absolutely hopeless. Nobody can criticize the men who voted for him for changing to Wilson when they saw no other way of selecting a candidate. Bryan suggested a new presidential primary, but that was out of the question and characteristic of the various pieces of advice he tendered the convention at various times during the contest.

Governor Wilson is an able man and will be ready to meet all comers on the stump. Neither Roosevelt nor any of the other opposition spellbinders will have any advantage over Wilson in the campaign. His record is clean and such as should reflect credit upon any presidential candidate. As governor of New Jersey, he overcame a republican majority and changed the state from being the hotbed of a trust combination to one which has now some of the best laws of any state in the union. There has been no single instance in the United States of a democratic governor carrying more reforms in a republican state than Gov. Wilson has placed on the statute books of New Jersey. If as president he should exercise the same progressive insight to the needs of the people and the same facility for bringing about reforms, he would undoubtedly be one of the best presidents in the history of the republic.

Gov. Wilson was favored by Bryan, but that did not bring about his nomination. He was the choice of different states throughout the country, and when the 53 votes of Illinois and those of Underwood were cast for Wilson, it seemed as if the defeat of Clark was assured.

With Wilson as the standard bearer there is little doubt that the democratic party will score a great victory at the polls in November. Roosevelt may work up his new party scheme but all he can do is to detract from the strength of President Taft and indirectly help in securing a democratic victory.

THE AVIATION FATALITIES

The tragic death of a man and woman at the Harvard aero meet at Squantum adds unhappily to the already long list of martyrs to the cause of aviation. Miss Harriet Quimby, who had attained prominence in the art, took the manager of the meet, Mr. William A. Willard, in a flight to Boston Light and return, and when about to land, as everybody supposed in safety, something happened which threw Mr. Willard out of the machine and Miss Quimby possibly, stunned by the accident, fell after him both descending from a height of 1000 feet to the Neponset river in which they were instantly killed. This accident should be sufficient to stop such contests in the future, although it did not apparently dampen the ardor of the other aviators who volunteered to carry out the remainder of the program as advertised, omitting, of course, the events in which Miss Quimby was to appear.

It was a rather strange coincidence that the morning after the Boston accident, the great dirigible balloon known as the "Akron," built by Melvin Vaniman who intended to cross the Atlantic ocean in it, exploded high in the air at Atlantic City sending five persons to their death. Both these accidents indicate that neither the aeroplane nor the dirigible has yet been perfected to the extent that it can be relied upon as safe if any hitch occurs in the air. There is such danger attached to the use of the machines that it seems almost cruel to induce men to risk their lives in paid exhibitions. It is particularly sad to see a woman in such an accident, and it would seem advisable to prevent women from taking up the art of aviation in public exhibitions. This Harvard aero meet should be declared off and it should not be repeated. A great many such meets have been held throughout the country as a means of making money; and this too should be discouraged if not entirely prevented. It is well to encourage the art, and those who are ready to risk their lives in demonstrating the value of machines deserve recognition and reward, but they should not be enticed into contests that are almost certain to be attended with fatal accidents.

THE SANE FOURTH

On the night before it is well to plan against accidents upon the Fourth of July. This can be accomplished by the ordinary precaution of having the boys let the old house rifle alone, avoid the use of toy pistols and dangerous firecrackers. In the past a lot of accidents have resulted from the reckless use of cannon crackers and other fireworks, revolvers and shotguns. There is no need of going insane or acting foolishly just because the anniversary of Independence Day comes around once a year. Then again, the excruciating noise, although it may not hasten anybody's death, is needless and should be kept within reasonable bounds. The reduction in the number of accidents on the last two Fourth's was highly gratifying to those who advocated a safe and sane observance, and it is hoped that the coming Fourth will be still more free from serious mishaps.

Consular reports dealing with street car fares in England show that reduction in fares to two cents and in some cases to one cent has vastly increased the number of passengers and consequently the profits of the company. In Glasgow, when the fares as a matter of experiment were reduced to one cent for a ride of a mile and a half, the increase in the number of passengers was from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 a year. In this country in many instances it could be demonstrated that a reduction in the fare would increase the profits of the company.

CLARK NO BOLTER

Speaker Clark has taken his defeat very philosophically and as a good democrat should. He cheerfully accepts the fortunes of war and in spite of the fact that he had 200,000 majority of the popular vote in the states in which Wilson and he competed, yet he promises his candid support to the party ticket. There is nothing of the better in Clark's make-up.

For Sanitary Housekeeping

Wherever there is dirt there are disease germs. Carbonol destroys these. These germs lurk even in comparatively clean places—such as rugs, draperies, corners, closets, etc. A few drops of Carbonol in the water used in cleaning or a dust cloth wrung out of such water, at once makes these germs harmless.

A few drops used in the dish water dissolves the grease quickly. A little sprinkled in kitchen corners and cracks drives away water-bugs and roaches. Try it. 10c and 25c a bottle.

"Why didn't you put my luggage in here, as I told you to?" thundered an irate passenger to the grizzle-haired porter, as the train moved out of the little railway station.

"Who's your first choice, Uncle Tom?" asked the prospective candidate.

"Anybody who can beat you," was the unexpected reply.

THE LANE

Not here is heard the din from where, up-curtled,

The urban smoke the sounding welkin drapes—

Harsh hammerings on the anvils of the Unexposed by much that makes the spirit sore

While witnessing the war of wrong A peaceful stream that cheers a peaceful shore

Day rolls between the banks of day Here the plainfolk in obscure ways have taught

The truth too often now ignored of Pure lives are echoes of God's holiest thought

Sounding awhile betwixt the Now and Then

Who far less fortunate ha. often done Some kindly deeds the world may never con-

White blood of light they quarried from the sun

To build a stair to step to Heaven out!

Beyond the glistening "unnel gray crags raise

Heads far more ancient (turbaned in the blue)

Thap temples that were legends in the days

Before Damascus flourished quaintly new;

The insects' drones, insistent and forlorn

Out where the winds shy violets caress,

Hint of some fairyland Samson grinding corn—

Blind dupe of some Divilah's faithlessness;

A twittering catbird hurriedly darts from sight

Where trumpet-flowers beyond the orchard blaze;

While on the dense a partridge stands upright,

Sliding its whistle-shuttle through the haze.

Deep are the tints of yellow, red and green;

Subdued all sounds these given ways

And all the world is but a singing scene,

And all the earth is but a pictured song!

Events are seeds that grew perennial plants

In Memory's fertile and unbounded

Rare roses which our deepest joys enhance;

Our weeds we would to sheer destruction yield;

My youth, though but a generation gone,

Seems blurred as things that now tra- dition holds—

Old trusts once kept on roofs of Baby- lon,

Old shepherd-songs once heard on Shinar's fields—

Yet have I mused here in the country lane

That leads to where my earlier hours TH buried hopes and faith arose again—

Till all my past was with the present view.

For, as the farthest hills, through mist outlined,

Are loveliest to the idler's pensive view.

The dearest years are those that lie behind.

Far off and dim in recollection's blue.

yachts will make up the fleet. Three flag officers will be represented, Commodore Paine on the flagship Constance, and his racing sloop Shinnia, Vice-Commodore Sears on his steam yacht Hope, Rear-Commodore Whitehouse on his auxiliary schooner Iris. Fleet Captain Emmons will sail the Shinnia.

Visiting the picturesque coast of Maine for sport and recreation on the annual cruise has become traditional with the Eastern Yacht club. The yachts of the club, singly and in groups, have been dodging into the many harbors ever since the club was organized in 1871. Nevertheless the attractive features of those inlets and wooded coves and islands seem to become more alluring each year; except for the first hundred miles run between Marblehead and Portland, each year has seen a slight deviation from the beaten track. Harbors that have been passed by for several years' cruises again appear on the schedule, although the finish is always inside the Pines off Bar Harbor. The innovation this year is Northeast Harbor, which has grown in exclusive attractiveness since the Eastern fleet was anchored off its granite bluffs a decade ago.

As usual, there will be plenty of sport for the racing contingent. The schedule starts off with an 85 mile contest from Marblehead rock to Portland lightship, on Independence day, with a race to Boothbay the following day, and on to the western Penobscot on Saturday.

The fleet will loaf across from Camden to North Haven on Sunday but racing will be resumed on Monday with a 25 mile contest in the east Penobscot. July 9 will be another day of rest for the racing crews, followed on July 10, by a race outside Swan's Island, with a finish at Northeast Harbor. The cruise will end with a race in Frenchman's Bay on July 11, and that night the wind-up banquet will be held at the Bar Harbor reading room, the Eastern station of the club. At that formal gathering Commodore Paine will distribute half a dozen specimens of the silversmith's art as trophies to the successful racing yachts.

The yachts will have one more opportunity in the second contest for the Norman cup, which Captain Norman offered two years ago for the run of 175 miles back to Marblehead. The cup was won last year by the little Bermuda winner, the Venonah, owned by E. J. Bliss. Possession of the Norman cup goes to the yacht owner winning it three times. Captain Bliss is not in the big yacht racing game this year.

GIRL WAS INJURED

WHILE TRYING TO SAVE A LITTLE CHILD

WOBBURN, July 3.—Josephine Sullivan, aged 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan of 12 Buckman court, dashed in front of an auto yesterday afternoon to save the life of an infant child, but she was struck by the car and last night was at the Choate hospital with a compound fracture of the right leg, a gash over her right eye and her body seriously bruised.

A crowd of children had gathered about 5.30 yesterday afternoon near the corner of Main and Buckman streets, attracted by a couple of street musicians. Josephine saw an auto approaching and noticed that a baby carriage containing an infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harkins of Richardson street was directly in its path. She ran to the carriage and managed to roll it out of danger. In doing it she was herself struck by the machine and dashed to the ground.

The car was driven by the owner, W. C. Bailey, a local manufacturer, who was accompanied by his son David. Mr. Bailey stopped immediately and after picking up the injured child carried her to the hospital where her wounds were dressed.
